NOT TOO LATE

by Gwendolyn Bounds

This book, part memoir and part advice, tracks Bounds' transformation from a physically unremarkable middle-aged office executive and well-known journalist into a world championship obstacle course race competitor, while teaching readers to change the story of what they can expect from midlife, using age as the secret weapon to widen their scope, reignite their purpose, awaken newfound passions.

Gwendolyn Bounds is the incoming Executive Director and Head of Content for SmartNews, the world's most advanced free news curation app powered by machine learning and human wisdom. She is an Obstacle Course Racer and competed in the Spartan Race 2019 and 2021 World Championships. A native of North Carolina and a graduate of University of North Carolina Chapel Hill, she currently lives New York's Hudson River Valley.

THE LEARNING ZONE: Discovering the Learning Zone in Work and in Life

by Eduardo Briceño

In order to succeed in a fast-changing world, individuals and companies must create an environment where practice and mistakes are encouraged. But how can we make mistakes and develop new skills while also maintaining the high-level performance necessary to deliver results? Who has the time or the leeway for that type of learning?

Fostering this type of learning mindset is Eduardo Briceño's specialty. Through his work with over a hundred companies looking to foster growth mindset cultures, he discovered that success—personal, organizational, and financial—hinges on navigating the crucial balance between learning and performing. Finding the balance between learning and performing is game-changing and has the potential to transform careers and accelerate growth.

Eduardo Briceño is a global keynote speaker, facilitator, and guide supporting leaders cultivating growth mindset cultures. He is a Pahara-Aspen Fellow, a member of the Aspen Institute's Global Leadership Network, and an inductee in the Happiness Hall of Fame. For over a decade he was the CEO of Mindset Works, which he cofounded in 2007 with Stanford professor Carol Dweck, Lisa Blackwell, and others. Earlier, he served as a technology investor with Credit Suisse's venture capital arm the Sprout Group. Eduardo grew up in Caracas, Venezuela. He holds bachelor's degrees in economics and engineering from the University of Pennsylvania, as well as an MBA and M.A. in education from Stanford University.

SWITCHING FIELDS: Inside the Fight to Remake Men's Soccer in the United States by George Dohrmann

Pulitzer Prize-winning sports journalist, George Dohrmann, unravels why the United States has failed to produce elite men's soccer players for so long—and shows why a golden generation just might be coming. As the U.S. women's national soccer team was on a path toward worldwide dominance, the mediocrity of the men's team was stunning—they failed to even qualify for the 2018 World Cup and the last three Olympics. How could such a global powerhouse on the women's side—and in other men's team sports—be so far behind the rest of the world?

SWITCHING FIELDS, George Dohrmann focuses on the system that develops male soccer players in the United States, examining why the U.S. has struggled to produce elite talent. And rather than focusing on the past, he turns forward, connecting with coaches and players from across the country who are changing the way talented players are unearthed and developed: an American living in Japan who devised a new way for kids under five to be introduced to the game; two brothers from Los Angeles who went to Spain and returned with coaching methods they used to build a super team of future pros; a minor league team that found a way to cultivate elite players where none existed before.

Following these innovators' inspiring journeys, Dohrmann gives fans a reason to believe that a movement is underway that is smashing the developmental status quo, and it has put the U.S. on the precipice of something amazing.

George Dohrmann is a senior managing editor at The Athletic and was formerly an investigative reporter at Sports Illustrated. His first book, PLAY THEIR HEARTS OUT (Ballantine, 2010), was named one of the best books of literary journalism of the twenty-first century by GQ and called one of the finest sports books of all time by Harper's and The New York Times. He won a Pulitzer Prize at the St. Paul Pioneer Press for a series of stories that uncovered academic fraud within a college basketball program. He lives in Ashland, Oregon, with his family.

RAISING HELL, LIVING WELL: Freedom from Influence in a World Where Everyone Wants Something from You

by Jessica Elefante Davis

Jess Elefante Davis is a master manipulator. Or, she used to be. Now a reformed brand strategist, leads us through her own misadventures to open the door to a freer way of living. She shines a light on the forces attempting to persuade our every choice: what we buy, how we behave, and which values we embrace. In a noisy world overwhelmed by in-your-face everything, understanding—first How-Come, then How-To—is the key to hearing our own voice. Her ground-breaking take on intentional living has readers learning a simple practice to uncomplicate how the powers-that-be are attempting to modify our behaviors.

After a lifesaving, game-changing kick in the guts, Elefante Davis came to terms with the boxes she got stuck in and, regrettably, created for others. Unpretentious, ingenious, and devil-hearted, RAISING HELL, LIVING WELL holds out a hand to help you climb out from under the influence too.

Jessica Elefante Davis is the founder and editor-in-chief of Folk Rebellion as well as a global speaker, writer, and creative director. Her work has been published in The Guardian, Inc. Mag, Simplify Mag, and more. As a touring international speaker, she has addressed audiences for Forbes, Vice, and Soho House, among many others. As a brand strategist, she was recognized on the “40 under 40” list and won a Webby and an Edison Award. She lives in Brooklyn with her family.

THE LAST FLIGHT OF THE MONARCH

by Dan Fagin

A narrative that follows the amazing yearly cycle of the monarch butterfly, beginning and ending in the mountains of Michoacán, and venturing as far as Canada and California. Part armchair travel, part history – readers will go with the three most prominent living monarch scientists into the field, unspool monarch DNA, climb mountains on horseback in Mexico and march in the Butterfly Parade in Pacific Grove, California, even visit Fagin’s hometown on Long Island, as he and his writer wife organize a clumsy but heartfelt campaign to lure monarchs back to their leafy suburb. In the end, readers will gain a deeper understanding of the world’s most charismatic insect, and a renewed sense of hope about the future of life in the age of man.

Dan Fagin is an associate professor of journalism and the director of the Science, Health, and Environmental Reporting Program at New York University’s Arthur L. Carter Journalism Institute. For fifteen years, he was the environmental writer at Newsday, where he was twice a principal member of reporting teams that were finalists for the Pulitzer Prize. His articles on cancer epidemiology were recognized with the Science Journalism Award of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the Science in Society Award of the National Association of Science Writers.

THE PARIS LINE

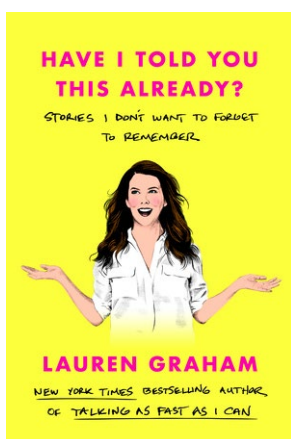

by Matthew Goodman

A thrilling, propulsive story about truly inspiring characters – two conventional, seemingly unremarkable women, who are called upon by the circumstances of history to discover within themselves a capacity for heroism, resistance and toughness they might never have imagined themselves capable of.

In the early days of the Nazi occupation of France, two middle-aged women, close friends, a transplanted Jewish New Yorker named Etta Shiber and a British expatriate, Kate Bonnefous, find themselves in the role of unlikely resistance heroes when they impulsively decide to rescue a British soldier left behind in the Dunkirk evacuation, transporting him to Paris in the luggage compartment of their car, and from there on to safety. Galvanized into further action, they ally themselves with a young priest from a rural village in the north and become the key link in a network that will rescue over a hundred stranded British soldiers hiding in the woods and barns and forests of France. Finally arrested by the Gestapo, both women separately endure brutally harsh confinement in a series of prisons and labor camps, neither of them ever naming a collaborator even under torture; against all odds, both survive to emerge at the end of the war, physically broken but triumphant in spirit.

Matthew Goodman is the author of four previous books of nonfiction: EIGHTY DAYS (Ballantine, 2013), THE SUN AND THE MOON (Basic Books); THE CITY GAME (Ballantine, 2019), and JEWISH FOOD (William Morrow). Goodman's work has appeared in The American Scholar, Harvard Review, Salon, and many other publications.

HAVE I TOLD YOU THIS ALREADY?: Stories I Don't Want to Forget to Remember by Lauren Graham

Humorous, heartfelt, and honest stories about life, love, and lessons learned as an actress in Hollywood, from the beloved star of Gilmore Girls and New York Times bestselling author of TALKING AS FAST AS I CAN (Ballantine, 2016). Graham combines her signature sense of humor with down-to-earth storytelling. Graham shares personal stories about her life and career—from her early days spent pounding the pavement while waitressing in New York City, to living on her aunt's couch during her first Los Angeles pilot season, to thoughts on aging gracefully in Hollywood.

In "R.I.P. Barneys New York" Graham writes about an early job as a salesperson at the legendary department store (and the time she inadvertently shoplifted from it); in "Ryan Gosling Cannot Confirm," she attempts to navigate the unspoken rules of Hollywood hierarchies; in "Boobs of the '90s" she worries her bras haven't kept up with the times; and in "Actor-y Factory" she recounts what a day in the life of an actor looks like (unless you're Brad Pitt).

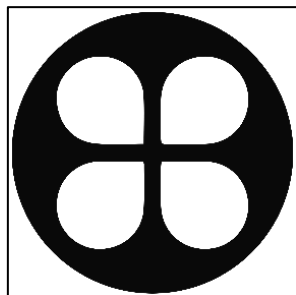

Filled with surprising anecdotes, sage advice, and laugh-out-loud observations, these all-new, original essays showcase the winning charm and wry humor that have delighted Graham's millions of fans.

Lauren Graham is an actor, writer, and producer best known for her roles on the critically acclaimed series Gilmore Girls and Parenthood. She holds a BA in English from Barnard College and an MFA in acting from Southern Methodist University. She lives in New York and Los Angeles.

We also have a novel from Graham scheduled for November 2024.

A KILLJOY'S GUIDE TO CONTINUED DISRUPTION: A Memoir by Ericka Hart

Award-winning sexuality educator Ericka Hart is a beloved "killjoy"—one who presents questions and truth that often help create necessary change both internally and socially. Through this collection of essays rooted in personal stories, Ericka shows how our bodies and our sexual expression is inextricable to overall human health and its intersections with race, class, gender, and identity.

Ericka Hart is a Black queer femme activist, writer, highly acclaimed speaker and award-winning sexuality educator with a Master of Education in Human Sexuality from Widener University. Her work broke ground when she went topless showing her double mastectomy scars in public in 2016. She was formerly an adjunct faculty member at Columbia University's School of Social Work.

THE YEAR GOD DIED

by James Lacey

THE YEAR GOD DIED is a historical look at 33 AD—the year Jesus was killed—that illuminates the political, economic, and social environs of the time. The New Testament story of Jesus' final week is well known. However, the events that swirled around it were largely due to a bloody power struggle in Rome of which few lay readers are aware. The story of how those events came to pass, and how they shaped one of the most significant events in history, is the story of THE YEAR GOD DIED. This book will examine 33 AD, demonstrating how a myriad of seemingly unconnected events unfolding over decades in Rome and Italy and elsewhere – from the seat of the Empire to Germanic territories to Jerusalem – are linked directly to the decision to crucify Jesus.

James Lacey is a New York Times bestselling author and a professor of strategy, military history, and economics at the Marine Corps War College. Prior to that he was a widely published senior analyst at the Institute for Defense Analyses in Washington, DC after serving twenty-four years as an Infantry officer. His writing has also been published in the National Review, The Weekly Standard, the New York Post, Military History Magazine, Time Magazine, and the Journal of Military History, among others. Among his books are the bestselling THE FIRST CLASH (Bantam, 2011), THE WASHINGTON WAR (Bantam, 2019), and GODS OF WAR (Bantam, 2020).

THE BIG FREEZE: A Reporter's Personal Journey into the World of Egg Freezing and the Quest to Control Our Fertility

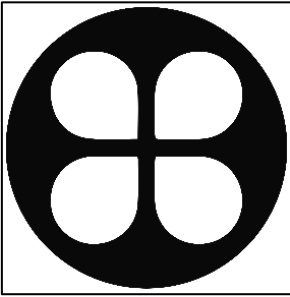

by Natalie Lampert

In the past decade, 65,000 American women have opted to freeze their eggs. Here is the story of a young investigative reporter's deep look into this lucrative, unregulated industry told in tandem with her own personal journey toward deciding whether to freeze her own eggs.

Natalie Lampert has only one ovary—and then in her early twenties she almost lost it, along with her ability to ever have biological children. Doctors urged her to freeze her eggs, and Lampert started asking questions. THE BIG FREEZE is the story of Lampert's personal quest to investigate the billion-dollar femtech industry of egg freezing. This revolutionary technology has enormous potential to offer a new kind of freedom for women. But does egg freezing give women real agency, or just the illusion of it?

THE BIG FREEZE is a guide to the pros and cons of the latest fertility technology: a page-turning exploration of young women's lives and the complex intersection of money and medicine, commerce and technology, with invaluable information that answers the questions women have been afraid to ask — or didn't know they should ask in the first place.

Natalie Lampert is a freelance journalist. Much of her reporting concerns women's health and the femtech industry. A former Fulbright scholar, she has written for The New York Times, The New York Times Magazine, The Washington Post, The Atlantic, The Guardian, NBC News, Slate, Marie Claire, The Daily Beast, and The New Republic, among other publications. Lampert has a master's degree in journalism from New York University.

THE MINDFUL BODY: Creating Chronic Health in an Age of Possibility

by Ellen J. Langer

When it comes to our health, too many of us act mindlessly, mistaking a medical diagnosis for a final verdict. We assume we can't get better and that the problems with our knees or our nerves will never go away. The end result is that our mindlessness can keep us from getting better.

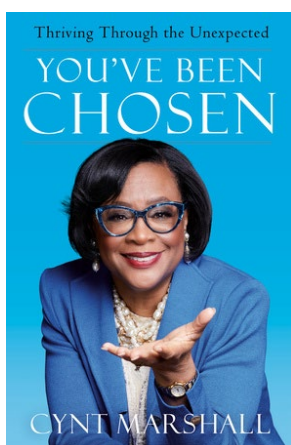

Ellen Langer has spent more than 40 years testing the limiting effects of our negative assumptions as well as the healing power of being mindful—present in the moment and not distracted by memories or projections into the future. Taking us into her trailblazing Harvard lab, THE MINDFUL BODY recounts many of her colorful experiments to illustrate the influence of expectation and belief on how our bodies function, how we heal, and even how we age. In one study Langer rigged eye charts so that participants would get some of the smaller letters right to start, giving them the expectation that they could improve their overall eye test scores. And they did. In another, she showed that wounds heal faster when subjects are placed in rooms with accelerated clocks; when you think that time is passing faster, your body heals faster!

A paradigm-shifting book by one of the great psychologists of the 21st century, THE MINDFUL BODY demonstrates that a true understanding of health begins with our mindset; our thoughts can significantly shape our well-being.

Ellen J. Langer was the first woman to be tenured in psychology at Harvard, where she is still professor of psychology. The recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship, Dr. Langer is the author of eleven other books, including the international bestseller, MINDFULNESS (Addison-Wesley), as well as THE POWER OF MINDFUL LEARNING (Da Capo) and COUNTERCLOCKWISE (Ballantine, 2009). Her trailblazing experiments in social psychology have earned her inclusion in The New York Times Magazine's "Year in Ideas" issue. Known worldwide as the "mother of mindfulness," she has received the Award for Distinguished Contributions to Psychology in the Public Interest of the American Psychological Association. She lives in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

YOU'VE BEEN CHOSEN: Thriving Through the Unexpected
by Cynthia Marshall

Cynt Marshall has spent her entire life beating personal and professional odds while also helping everyone she meets see how they are uniquely equipped to thrive. Through it all, this self-described “people person” never stopped reaching out and built a reputation as an inspiring motivator and mentor in business and beyond.

YOU'VE BEEN CHOSEN offers what Marshall calls “the good, the great, the bad, and the ugly parts” of her journey through both cancer and everything that led up to it. Along the way, she tackles the tough questions we all face: What will I do with what I have been given? How will I respond to challenges with both grace and grit? Where will this new path take me if I keep moving? And how can I offer something good back to the world as a result?

Cynt Marshall’s deep faith and positivity will inspire and motivate you, and her story will help you see how all your experiences, even the hardest moments, can work together for something good, bringing you to positive places you’d have never experienced otherwise. She shows you how to find your own “voice of power” and encourages you to remember—and believe—that you, too, have been equipped to walk your unique path with purpose. That you, too, have been chosen.

Cynthia “Cynt” Marshall is the CEO of the Dallas Mavericks, president and CEO of Marshalling Resources consulting, and the former SVP of human resources and chief diversity officer for AT&T. She is the first African American woman to hold the CEO role for any NBA team. She is also an outspoken cancer survivor, regular speaker at cancer-related events, and vocal supporter of cancer patients and their families across the country. The fourth of six children, Marshall grew up in Richmond, California, and lives in the Dallas area. She and her husband, Kenneth, have four adult children.

COME TOGETHER: The Science (and Art!) of Creating Lasting Sexual Connections
by Emily Nagoski

In COME AS YOU ARE, Emily Nagoski, PhD, provided science-backed lessons that revolutionized the way we think about women's sexuality. Now, in COME TOGETHER, Nagoski takes on a fundamentally misunderstood subject: good sex.

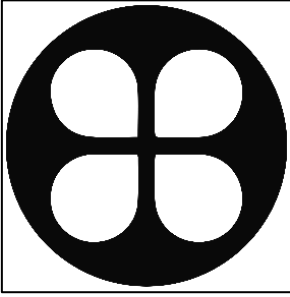

Nagoski breaks down the false assumptions many of us have been (incorrectly) taught about sex—for instance, the belief that sexual satisfaction and libido are highest at the beginning of a relationship and that they will inevitably decline the longer that relationship lasts. Nagoski assures us that's not true.

So, what is true? COME TOGETHER isn't about how much we want sex, or how often we're having it; it's about whether we like the sex we're having. Nagoski breaks down the obstacles that impede us from enjoying sex—from stress and body image, to relationship difficulties and gendered beliefs about how sex "should" be—and presents the best ways to overcome them.

With her signature insight, humor, and empathy, Nagoski shows us what great sex can look like, how to create it in our own lives, and what to do when struggles arise.

Emily Nagoski is the New York Times bestselling, award-winning author of COME AS YOU ARE and THE COME AS YOU ARE WORKBOOK (Simon & Schuster), and co-author, with her sister, Amelia, of BURNOUT: The Secret to Unlocking the Stress Cycle (Ballantine, 2019). She earned an MS in counseling and a PhD in health behavior, both from Indiana University, with clinical and research training at the Kinsey Institute. Now she combines sex education and stress education to teach women to live with confidence and joy inside their bodies. She lives in Massachusetts with two dogs, a cat, and a cartoonist.

THE VAGABOND'S WAY: 366 Meditations on Wanderlust, Discovery, and the Art of Travel By Rolf Potts

For readers who dream of travel, yearn to get back out on the road, or want to enrich a journey they're currently on, The Vagabond's Way explores and celebrates the life-altering essence of travel. Each day of the year features a one-page meditation on an aspect of the journey, anchored by words of wisdom from a variety of thinkers—from Stoic philosopher Seneca and poet Maya Angelou to Trappist monk Thomas Merton and Grover from Sesame Street.

Iconoclastic travel writer and scholar Rolf Potts embraces the ragged-edged, harder-to-quantify aspects of travel that inevitably change travelers' lives for the better in unexpected ways. The book's various sections mirror the phases of a trip.

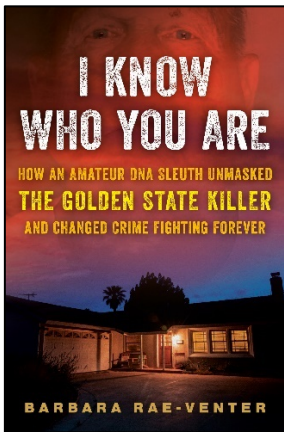

THE VAGABOND'S WAY encourages you to sustain the mindset of a journey, even when you aren't able to travel, and affirms that travel is as much a way of being as it is an act of movement.

Rolf Potts is the author of VAGABONDING (Ballantine, 2002). He has reported from more than sixty countries for National Geographic Traveler, The New Yorker, Outside, The New York Times Magazine, and the Travel Channel. Many of his essays have been selected as "Notable Mentions" in The Best American Essays, The Best American Nonrequired Reading, and The Best American Travel Writing. He is based in north-central Kansas, where he keeps a small farmhouse on thirty acres with his wife, Kansas-born actress Kristen Bush.

A revised edition of VAGABONDING will be a Ballantine Trade paperback and will be published in October 2022.

I KNOW WHO YOU ARE: How an Amateur DNA Sleuth Unmasked the Golden State Killer and Changed Crime Fighting Forever

by Barbara Rae-Venter

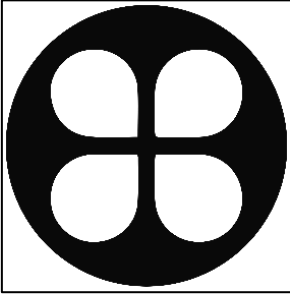

In the span of just a few years, Barbara Rae-Venter went from researching her family history as a retiree to finding a serial killer who had baffled law enforcement for decades. I KNOW WHO YOU ARE tracks her improbable journey to becoming the nation's leading authority in investigative genetic genealogy, and to identifying the Golden State Killer—who had evaded authorities for forty-four years—in just sixty-three days.

Drawing on both her own experiences and insights from all the key players in her investigations, Rae-Venter brings readers inside her unique "grasshopper mind" as she analyzes DNA data; pores through obituaries, marriage records, and old newspapers articles; and envisions different scenarios that bring her closer and closer to her target. She lets readers join in on urgent calls from sheriffs, FBI agents, district attorneys, and researchers, and she takes us inside the struggle to obtain a usable crime scene DNA sample and other unexpected roadblocks that often make the search more difficult. Time and again, Rae-Venter pushes through setbacks, finds new angles of investigation, and uses the most cutting-edge new technology—much of it developed during her search—until, finally, a critical piece of the puzzle suddenly tumbles into place.

I KNOW WHO YOU ARE captures the exhilaration of the moment of discovery in cold case investigations, but also the sheer depth of emotion that lingers around these cases and informs Rae-Venter's careful approach to her work. It is a story of relentless curiosity, of constant invention and reinvention, and of recognizing that we may not be who we thought we were.

Barbara Rae-Venter is a New Zealand-born American investigative genetic genealogist, biologist, and retired patent attorney best known for her work helping the FBI and other investigators identify Joseph James DeAngelo as the Golden State Killer. She earned a Ph.D. at the University of California at San Diego and later a law degree at the University of Texas at Austin Law School. Her investigative work earned her a place on the Time 100 list of most influential people and was recognized by the journal Nature as one of "10 People Who Mattered in Science in 2018."

XOXO, CODY: An Opinionated Homosexual's Guide to Self-Love, Relationships, and Tactful Pettiness

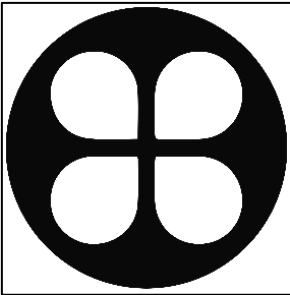

by Cody Rigsby

An empowering, laugh-out-loud memoir about becoming the most joyful version of yourself and living the life you deserve, from the beloved Peloton instructor.

In his first book, Cody opens up about everything from growing up gay and poor in the south with an addict mom to somehow going from broke-ass dancer to fitness icon. He writes about working at a nightclub on the Lower East Side, losing both his father and best friend to addiction, auditioning for Peloton even though he had never taught a fitness class before, and competing against Sporty Spice on Dancing with the Stars. With raw and inspiring stories about learning how to face the scary sh*t, interspersed with Q&As and his definitive rankings on everything from fashion faux pas to celebrity breakups, XOXO, CODY is a bold and heartfelt reminder that sometimes laughing at yourself is the best medicine. (Free beauty tip: a spoonful of levity does wonders for your soul and your skin).

So, grab your water, grab your towel, and get ready for the ride of a lifetime as your badass, Britney Spears-loving instructor teaches you the most important truth about life: It ain't that deep, boo.

Cody Rigsby is a fitness instructor and Cycling Director at Peloton. Born in California and raised in North Carolina, Rigsby first moved to New York City to pursue a career as a professional dancer. After landing gigs with chart-topping artists, he pivoted to fitness and began working at Peloton, where he now teaches cycling, bike bootcamp, dance cardio, and meditation. He's been profiled in the LA Times, Good Morning America, People, The Washington Post, The New York Times, Vogue, GQ, Forbes, and appeared on the hit TV show Dancing with the Stars more. Rigsby lives in Brooklyn, New York.

ON THRIVING: Stories and Lessons on Harnessing Joy Through Life's Great Labors
by Brandi Sellers-Jackson

A renowned doula shares powerful lessons on healing and thriving through the murky seasons of life in this moving, intimate guide to self-care, identity, and mental health.

Safe spaces, communion, knowing that we are loved—these are the things we long for. Brandi Sellers-Jackson found them when she started exploring her encounters with loss and trauma as a way to confront her own grief, and she ended up creating a community for others to unleash their fears and heartaches. Now Brandi shares everything she's learned about the tools we already have not just to survive but thrive. Comparing our thriving to plant life, she simplifies the complicated—and oftentimes overwhelming—journey as we attempt to grow in an often-inhospitable environment. Drawing from her experiences as a doula and intimate storytelling from her own life, Brandi guides us through the many phases of life's great labors: relationships, being other(ed), grief and loss, and mental health. She doesn't shy away from the pitfalls of these labors, but rather challenges us to actively remain present within them and ask ourselves: What do I need to thrive in the space I'm currently in?

With insightful and vulnerable storytelling, Brandi assures us that in trusting our path and foraging our way through emotions we've long spent suppressing, we can gather all that we need to thrive right where we are, right now.

Brandi Sellers-Jackson is a storyteller, birth and postpartum doula, and the creator of Not So Private Parts. Initially created as a women's lifestyle blog, Not So Private Parts has evolved into a resource of information for all things vulnerability. Brandi is the co-founder of Moms in Color, a Black mom collective centered around celebrating diversity within the motherhood space. She is also the social media manager at Ergobaby, a leading brand in babywearing and attachment parenting.

HOW TO SURVIVE A MURDER INVESTIGATION

by Catherine Townsend

From the private investigator and the host of popular true crime podcasts Hell and Gone and Red Collar, HOW TO SURVIVE A MURDER INVESTIGATION will bring readers along for the ride on a cold-case murder investigation. Catherine Townsend shares behind the scenes details of how she cracked a decades cold murder investigation, allowing fans that live and breathe true crime to vividly understand how investigations work—what to do, what not to do, why certain things matter when others don't, who to trust, and when to trust them, how to use the “bad guys” to your advantage, and a whole host of things they don't teach in crime-fighting school.

Catherine Townsend is a writer, licensed private investigator, and podcaster. She is the host of the iHeartMedia podcast Hell and Gone and the Audiochuck podcast Red Collar. Her reporting on the Hell and Gone podcast on the 2004 murder of Rebekah Gould led to the cold case being reopened. After beginning her career as a staff writer for New York Magazine, Catherine moved to London to create The Independent's very popular “Sleeping Around” dating column. Her articles have appeared in publications including The Atlantic, Elle, New York, GQ, Marie Claire, Cosmopolitan, the Daily Mail, the New York Post, Cosmopolitan, Investigation Discovery and The Huffington Post.

LEXINGTON: The Extraordinary Life and Turbulent Times of America's Legendary Racehorse by Kim Wickens

The early days of American horse-racing were punishing. Four-mile heats—races four miles long, run two or three times in succession!—were the norm, rewarding horses with the ideal combination of stamina and speed, attributes that pioneering Americans prized. The stallion Lexington, named after the city in Kentucky where he was born and trained on the rough tracks of New Orleans, exemplified these winning qualities, to become a beacon of hope for people of all levels of society.

After shattering the speed record for a four-mile race, Lexington continued his winning career until deteriorating eyesight forced his retirement. But once his groundbreaking achievements as a racehorse ended, his role as a sire began. Horses from his bloodline won more money than the offspring of any other Thoroughbred sire. Yet Lexington's years at a Kentucky stud farm were far from idyllic. Confederate soldiers ran amok, looting freely and kidnapping horses from the top stables, including Lexington's undefeated son, Asteroid, and other horses from his valuable bloodline.

Wickens spent years meticulously researching the horse and his legacy—and with LEXINGTON, she presents an absorbing, exciting account that will transport you back to the raucous beginning of American horse racing and introduce you to the stallion at its heart.

Kim Wickens is a writer, lawyer, and racehorse aficionado. She grew up in New Mexico and studied at Kenyon College. She currently lives in Lexington, Kentucky with her family.

THE COME UP: An Oral History of the Rise of Hip Hop by Jonathan Abrams

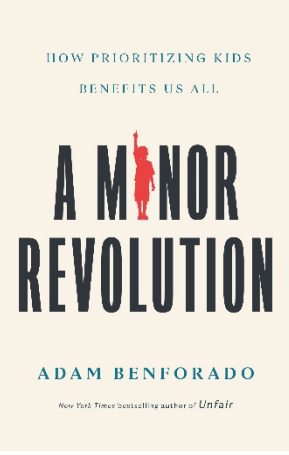

The essential oral history of hip-hop, from its origins on the playgrounds of the Bronx to its reign as the most powerful force in pop culture—from the award-winning journalist behind ALL THE PIECES MATTER (Crown, 2018), the New York Times bestselling oral history of The Wire.

THE COME UP offers the most comprehensive account so far of hip-hop's rise, told in the voices of the people who made it happen. In more than 300 interviews conducted over three years, Abrams has captured the stories of the DJs, label executives, producers, and artists who both witnessed and made the history of hip-hop. This book is an important contribution to the historical record and an exhilarating behind-the-scenes account of how hip-hop came to rule the world.

Jonathan Abrams is an award-winning journalist and staff writer for the New York Times. He is the bestselling author of BOYS AMONG MEN (Crown, 2016) and ALL THE PIECES MATTER (Crown, 2018). A graduate of the University of Southern California, Abrams was formerly a staff writer at Bleacher Report, Grantland, and the Los Angeles Times.

For women, people of color, immigrants, and queer folks, there’s often a dissonance between how you speak and how we collectively think powerful people should speak: like the wealthy white men who’ve historically been in charge. But, fortunately, the sound of power is changing. PERMISSION TO SPEAK is your tool kit for making that change. In this revolutionary take on how to use your voice to get what you want, sought-after speech coach Samara Bay offers a fresh perspective on public speaking and a new definition of what power sounds like: namely, you. Blending anecdotes with eye-opening research in leadership, linguistics, and social science, PERMISSION TO SPEAK shows you how to strike the right balance of strength and warmth to land your message; exactly what to do before a high-stakes scenario so that your voice, your mind, and your spirit are ready; and how to turn habits like vocal fry and upspeak into tools. Most important, you’ll discover your voice story: why you talk the way you do, what’s wonderful about it, and what you’ve outgrown. Fiery, fun, and truly profound, PERMISSION TO SPEAK is a personal and cultural reckoning with what speaking in public is and what it can be. This book meets the moment and offers this provocation: When we change what power sounds like, we change who has it. Samara Bay is a communication expert whose clients range from candidates for the U.S. Congress to C-suite executives, international diplomats, and Hollywood celebrities. But a hundred years on, the promised light has not arrived. Today, more than eleven million American children live in poverty and more than four million lack health insurance. Each year, we prosecute thousands of kids as adults, while our schools crumble. We deny young people any political power, while we fail to act on the issues that matter most to them: racism, inequality, and climate change. Our disregard for children's rights is not simply a moral problem; it's also an economic and social one. The root cause of nearly every major challenge we face—from crime to poor health to unemployment—can be found in our mistreatment of kids. But in that sobering truth is also the key to changing our fate as a nation. Drawing on the latest research on the value of early intervention, investment, and empowerment, A MINOR REVOLUTION makes the urgent case for putting children first—in our budgets and policies, in how we develop products and enact laws, and in our families and communities. Childhood is the window of opportunity for all of us. Adam Benforado is a professor of law at Drexel University. BILLIONAIRES' ROW: Tycoons, High Rollers, and the Epic Race to Build the World's Most Exclusive Skyscrapers

by Katherine Clarke

To look south from Central Park these days is to gaze upon a physical manifestation of tens of billions of dollars in global wealth: a series of soaring spires dotting the skyline from Park Avenue to Broadway. Known as Billionaires' Row, these slender high-rise condos have transformed the skyline of New York City almost in stealth, thanks to the city's developer-friendly policies and a seemingly endless gush of cash from tech, finance, and moguls from Russia, China, and the Middle East. In just a few years, the cutthroat real estate impresarios behind these "supertalls" turned what was once a rundown strip of Midtown into the most expensive street on Earth. Most of us, however, will never be invited inside these gargantuan towers.

The saga of BILLIONAIRES' ROW epitomizes the "new Gilded Age" of twenty-first-century wealth as Wall Street Journal reporter Katherine Clarke reveals the riveting inside story of how a group of New York's most legendary developers went toe-to-toe with renegade upstarts in an ego-fueled race to build the tallest and most luxurious skyscrapers the world has ever known—and to burnish their legacies in the process. The result is a real-life drama complete with broken partnerships, broken marriages, lawsuits, and, for a few, triumph.

Katherine Clarke is a reporter at The Wall Street Journal, where she covers the high-end real estate market across the United States. Previously, she wrote for the New York Daily News and The Real Deal.

THE QUIET DAMAGE

by Jesselyn Cook

The extremist conspiracy theory movement QAnon has broken loose from the far-right fever swamps to become one of the biggest stories in the country—and yet, as QAnon plunges the U.S. political landscape into chaos, triggering panic on both sides of the aisle, there's been shockingly little attention paid to the staggering pain and trauma it's causing behind the scenes as it wreaks havoc on families across America. Built on Jesselyn Cook's intimate reporting on QAnon and its believers, THE QUIET DAMAGE will lay bare the immense harm QAnon is inflicting upon American families by chronicling the fractured relationships between a mother and son, two sisters, and a husband and wife. Embedding herself in their lives, she will illustrate in riveting detail how QAnon is enacting intergenerational trauma and rending close bonds that will be harrowing to repair—if they can be saved at all.

Jesselyn Cook is a senior reporter at HuffPost in Los Angeles, where she covers tech platforms, disinformation, online scams and internet culture. One of the few reporters in the world who has been tracking QAnon since its infancy in 2017, Cook has made her name by infiltrating some of the deepest, darkest corners of the web and pursuing the human angle to every story with curiosity and compassion.

THE VALUES CHAIN

by Victor Friedberg

The Values Chain will examine the new era of capitalism and a powerful economic principle that explains how a company's product or service is greatly enhanced when its values bond with the consumer's values and, conversely, is diminished when that bond is broken.

Victor Friedberg is a well-known thought leader in food system innovation, investment, and sustainable global development, having cofounded S2G Ventures, a leading venture fund investing in farm-to-fork food and agriculture where he built its thesis, team and portfolio.

AGAINST THE WIND: Edward Kennedy and the Rise of Conservatism, 1976-2009

by Neal Gabler

"A mammoth undertaking . . . Neal Gabler has brilliantly documented the rise of the most consequential legislator of our day, one who reached Shakespearean heights and tabloid depths...It is the tale of modern American liberalism and the shifting winds of political morality. . . Deeply impressive."

—Walter Isaacson, New York Times bestselling author of Steve Jobs and Leonardo da Vinci

From the author of CATCHING THE WIND comes the second volume of the epic, definitive biography of Ted Kennedy—following his political and personal journey as the rise of conservatism and his own missteps threatened to topple the legacy he worked tirelessly to build.

AGAINST THE WIND completes Neal Gabler's magisterial biography of Ted Kennedy, but it also unfolds the epic, tragic story of the fall of liberalism and the destruction of political morality in America.

Tracing Kennedy's life from the wilderness of the Reagan years through the compromises of the Clinton era, from his rage against the craven cruelty of George W. Bush to his hope that Obama would deliver on a lifetime of effort on behalf of universal health care, Gabler unfolds Kennedy's heroic legislative work against the backdrop of a nation grown lost and fractured. AGAINST THE WIND sheds new light both on a revered figure in the American Century and on America's current existential crisis.

Neal Gabler is the author of six books, including four biographies: CATCHING THE WIND, AN EMPIRE OF THEIR OWN (both published by Crown), WINCHELL, and WALT DISNEY (both published by Knopf). He has been the recipient of a Guggenheim fellowship, a Shorenstein fellowship, and a Woodrow Wilson Public Policy scholarship, and was the chief nonfiction judge of the National Book Awards.

Her mother is English. They meet in 1960's London when the world is not quite ready for interracial love. Their union, a revolutionary act, results in a total meltdown of familial relations, a lot of immigration paperwork, and three children, all in varying shades of tan. Together they set off on a journey from the United Kingdom to Canada and to the United States in elusive pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness—a dream that eventually tears them apart. ALMOST BROWN is an exploration of diasporic intermingling involving parents of two different races and their half-brown children as they experience the paradoxes and conundrums of life as it's lived between race checkboxes. Eventually, her parents drift apart because they just aren't compatible. But as she finds herself distancing from her father too—why is she embarrassed to walk down the street with him and not her mom?—she doesn't know if it's because of his personality or his race. As a mixed-race child, was this her own unconscious bias favoring one parent over the other in the racial tug-of-war that plagues our society? ALMOST BROWN looks for answers to questions shared by many mixed-race people: What are you? What does it mean to be a person of color when the concept is a societal invention and really only applies halfway if you are half white? And how does your relationship with your parents change as you change and grow older? In a funny, turbulent, and ultimately heartwarming story, Gill examines the brilliant messiness of ancestry, "diversity," and the idea of "race," a historical concept that still informs our beliefs about ethnicity today. Charlotte Gill is a bestselling and award-winning writer of fiction and narrative nonfiction. LADYKILLER (Thomas Allen), her first book, was the recipient of the Danuta Gleed Award for short fiction. EATING DIRT (D&M Publishers), a tree-planting memoir, was a #1 national bestseller in Canada. THEY CALLED US EXCEPTIONAL: And Other Lies that Raised Us
by Prachi Gupta

From award-winning journalist Prachi Gupta, THEY CALLED US EXCEPTIONAL is a groundbreaking memoir about the author's family, which explores the crossroads of identity, the stigma of confronting mental health issues, and the "model minority" myth, doubling as an elegy for the love and lives this myth has destroyed.

As the daughter of Indian immigrants who settled in white suburban Pennsylvania, family was the foundation of Prachi Gupta's identity. Family, an impenetrable fortress, offered a safe haven to her and her brother Yush from the racism of the outside world, a community, and a distinct cultural identity. But her belonging was predicated upon a dangerous myth—the idea that Asian Americans, and Indian Americans in particular, have perfected the alchemy of life in America, raising tight-knit, high-achieving families. But no one could see what lay beneath, and when Yush dies from complications following a surgery he undertook in a misguided hope to meet the American male standard, the already frayed family is shattered.

Powerfully written as a love letter to her emotionally distant mother, Gupta's probing examination is a clarion call for a nation crushed by the same delusion that crushed her family: anyone can be successful here if they simply work hard enough. Gupta offers a personal argument for why our understanding of success is killing us, why we need to abandon traditional notions of success, and instead orient ourselves to seek connection and compassion.

Prachi Gupta is a journalist and essayist based in New York who writes for various outlets including the Atlantic, the Washington Post Magazine, Marie Claire, Refinery29, and Elle. Formerly a senior reporter at Jezebel, she is also an adjunct lecturer at NYU's Arthur L. Carter Journalism Institute and a segment producer at Crooked Media's "Lovett or Leave It" podcast.

CRASH LANDING: The Inside Story of How the World's Biggest Companies Survived an Economy on the Brink

by Liz Hoffman

A kaleidoscopic account of the financial carnage of the pandemic, revealing the fear, grit, and gambles that drove the economy's winners and losers—from a leading Wall Street Journal reporter.

In CRASH LANDING, award-winning business journalist Liz Hoffman shows how the pandemic set the economy on fire—but if you look closely, the tinder was already there. After the global financial crisis in 2008, corporate leaders embraced cheap debt and growth at all costs. Wages flatlined. Millions were pushed into the gig economy. Companies crammed workers into offices, and airlines did the same with planes. Wall Street cheered on this relentless march toward efficiency, overlooking the collateral damage and the risks sowed in the process.

Based on astonishing access inside some of the world's biggest and most iconic companies, Crash Landing is Liz Hoffman's gripping account of the most remarkable period in modern economic history, revealing—through fly-on-the-wall reporting—how they battled against an economic catastrophe for which there was no playbook: among them, AirBnB's Brian Chesky, American Airlines's Doug Parker, and Ford's Jim Hackett.

In the tradition of Too Big to Fail and The Big Short, Crash Landing reveals the fear, grit, and gambles of the pandemic economy, while probing its implications for the future of work, corporate leadership, and capitalism itself, asking: Will this remarkable time give rise to newfound resilience, or become just another costly mistake to be forgotten?

Liz Hoffman is the business and finance editor at Semafor. She was previously a senior reporter at The Wall Street Journal, where she covered financial markets, corporate dealmaking, and the machinations of Wall Street for nearly a decade. A native of central Pennsylvania, she graduated from Tufts University and the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University.

UNTITLED MEMOIR

by Steve Hoffman

A beautifully written memoir from Steve Hoffman—when he moves his Minnesota-based family to a scratchy-hot part of France to live out his francophilic dreams, they soon discover those Parisian dreams don't quite align with their new small-town style of living in the South of France. Slowly Hoffman adapts, eventually meeting and bonding with locals who teach him regional cooking and winemaking traditions that show him the true beauty of the culture he thought he knew.

Steve Hoffman is a food writer and budding winemaker who moved his family from St. Paul, Minnesota to a small village in the Languedoc region of southern France with their two children. His food writing has garnered awards from Association of Food Journalism's Award and the International Association of Culinary Professionals.

THE REBEL AND THE KINGDOM: The True Story of the Secret Mission to Overthrow the North Korean Regime

by Bradley Hope

"A riveting saga of one man's unlikely crusade to free North Korea. . . . Hope has impressive access to Free Joseon and other activist groups and draws a vivid portrait of Hong, whose mix of courage, opportunism, and yearning fascinates. This is the stuff great political thrillers are made of."

—Publishers Weekly, ★starred review ★

"A fast-paced, true-life thriller pitting a merciless North Korean state against a band of high-tech, courageous activists. . . . Thoroughly engaging . . . A page-turner of a spy-vs.-spy tale."

—Kirkus Reviews, ★starred review ★

In the early 2000s, Adrian Hong was a soft-spoken Yale undergraduate looking for his place in the world. After reading a harrowing account of life inside North Korea, he realized he had found a cause so pressing that he was ready to devote his life to it.

What began as a trip down the safe and well-worn path of organizing soon morphed into something more dangerous. Hong journeyed to China, outwitting Chinese security services as he helped asylum-seeking North Koreans escape across the border. Meanwhile, Hong's secret organization, Cheollima Civil Defense (later renamed Free Joseon), began tracking the North Korean government's activities, and its volatile third-generation ruler, Kim Jong-un. Free Joseon targeted North Korean diplomats who might be persuaded to defect, while drawing up plans for a government-in-exile. After the shocking broad-daylight assassination in 2017 of Kim Jong-nam, the dictator's older brother, Hong, along with U.S. Marine veteran Christopher Ahn, helped ferry Kim Jong-nam's family to safety. Then Hong took the group a step further. He initiated a series of high-stakes direct actions, culminating in an armed raid at the North Korean embassy in Madrid—an act that would put Ahn behind bars and turn Hong into one of the world's most unlikely fugitives.

THE REBEL AND THE KINGDOM is an exhilarating account of a man who turns his back on the status quo—to instead live boldly by his principles. Acclaimed journalist and bestselling author Bradley Hope—who broke numerous details of Hong's operations in The Wall Street Journal—now reveals the full contours of this remarkable story of idealism and insanity, hubris and heroism, all set within the secret battle for the future of the world's most mysterious and unsettling nation.

Bradley Hope, based in London, is the New York Times bestselling co-author of BILLION DOLLAR WHALE and BLOOD AND OIL (both published by Hachette). He is a Pulitzer Prize finalist and Gerald Loeb Award winner. Formerly a reporter for The Wall Street Journal and a correspondent in the Middle East, Hope is co-founder of Project Brazen, a journalism studio and production company.

HEALTHY NO MATTER WHAT: How Humans Are Hardwired to Adapt
By Alex Jadad and Tamen Jadad Garcia

Dr. Alex Jadad is the creator of the Jadad scale, which has become the world's most widely used methodology to assess the quality of clinical trials, and Tamen Jadad-Garcia is a health entrepreneur and philosopher. Here they combine their expertise to uncover the medical system's unstable foundations, which condemn you to be ill. The Jadads begin this exploration with a simple question: "What is health?"

Through engaging stories and case studies, the Jadads expand the understanding of health beyond the medical industrial complex. They show how distant connections in your personal networks can influence key aspects of yourself, like your weight, anxiety, and addictions; how reliance on medications can be reduced by intentionally designing the places where you live, work, and play; and how comparisons with peers can shorten your life.

In this practical guide, the meaning of health is redefined, putting you in the driver's seat and recognizing you as the most effective evaluator. HEALTHY NO MATTER WHAT teaches you how your natural gift of adaptability equips you to overcome any obstacle, provides actionable pointers, and shows how and when to use the medical system, so that you can thrive, regardless of the twists and turns life may take.

Alex Jadad, MD, is a physician, philosopher, educator, and innovator. A pioneer of evidence-based medicine, end-of-life care, and digital health, he is the creator of the renowned Jadad scale. He leads large-scale efforts to shape the future of health and medicine, is an adviser to heads of state and multinational corporations and is the author of twelve books and hundreds of scientific articles.

Tamen Jadad-Garcia is an entrepreneur and philosopher who builds businesses and leads strategic projects with Fortune 500 companies in healthcare, consumer goods, and technology. She is the author of scientific articles and books on topics spanning end-of-life care, love, and the future of health.

COMMAND: Inside the Oval Office with Three Presidents, and the Wartime Decisions That Changed the World

By Brett McGurk

From one of the only senior national security officials to serve under Presidents Bush, Obama, and Trump, a riveting diplomatic memoir of America at war, and an exclusive insider's look at how successive presidents made life-and-death decisions under pressure.

Through vivid stories from his time in Iraq early in the war and then dealing with its aftermath over fifteen years—from senior posts at the White House and State Department, through diplomacy around the world, including hostage negotiations, building coalitions, and raising armies, to battlefields with American troops as they experiment with new modes of warfare—McGurk offers a unique, behind-the-scenes account of how three presidents made and executed war-and-peace decisions in real-time.

From their successes and failures, McGurk extracts urgent lessons about leadership and America's role in the world. He offers an urgent warning about failure to carefully align ends with means and shines a light on the deeply personal nature of policy-making and diplomacy. In page-turning prose, COMMAND lifts the mystique of the highest-stakes deliberations, illuminating the fateful choices made by a few that profoundly affect us all and will shape the future of our world.

Brett McGurk served as a top national security advisor under Presidents George W. Bush, Barack Obama, and Donald Trump. He has been involved in U.S. military strategy, diplomacy, and foreign policy for nearly two decades, most recently as Obama and Trump's envoy leading the campaign to defeat ISIS. McGurk is currently the Payne Distinguished Lecturer at Stanford University's Freeman Spogli Institute where he teaches and lectures on presidential decision-making in wartime.

EXACTLY

by Greg McKeown

The next book from Greg McKeown, the New York Times bestselling author of EFFORTLESS and ESSENTIALISM.

EXACTLY codifies twenty-five years of insight into one of the most critical and yet overlooked interpersonal skills: the ability to deeply understand others while also being deeply understood. Greg McKeown draws on a range of real-world examples as well as research in psychology and neuroscience to offer strategies and tips showing how to achieve mutual understanding with just about anyone - and in turn cast aside disagreements and differences, enjoy richer and more productive relationships, and wield greater power and influence.

Greg McKeown is the author of the New York Times bestsellers EFFORTLESS and ESSENTIALISM (both published by Currency) and the CEO of McKeown Inc. He has been featured in The New York Times, Fast Company, Fortune, HuffPost, Politico, and Inc., and is among the most popular bloggers for Harvard Business Review and LinkedIn Pulse, averaging a million views a month.

AMERICAN TRASH

by Nate Morris

An account, animated by revealing storytelling and inspiring lessons, of how Kentucky-born Nate Morris overcame early adversity and found his calling as an entrepreneur, taking on one of the world's most entrenched industries, trash hauling, and turning his innovative Georgia-based company Rubicon into a billion-dollar "unicorn". Through his story of success, Morris offers readers a blueprint for building successful startups, revealing that you don't need to be based in Silicon Valley to apply technology and innovative thinking to build disruptive and, in fact, picking an overlooked problem like trash and building your business far away from the glare of the world's tech centers might even be your superpower.

Nate Morris is an American business magnate. He is the founder of Lexington, Kentucky-based conglomerate Morris Industries, Founder and CEO of the software company Rubicon and Founder of the Morris Foundation.

VIRTUAL SOCIETY: The Metaverse and the New Frontiers of Human Experience

by Herman Narula

"If the best way to predict the future is to build it, Herman Narula is holding quite the crystal ball. In this book, he gives you a look inside and establishes himself as a thought leader on the future of humanity and technology."—Adam Grant, #1 New York Times bestselling author of Think Again and host of the TED podcast WorkLife

The concept of "the metaverse" has exploded in the public consciousness, but its contours remain elusive. Is it merely an immersive virtual reality playground, one that Facebook and other platforms will angle to control? Is it simply the next generation of massive multiplayer online games? Or is it something more revolutionary?

As pioneering technologist Herman Narula shows, the metaverse is the latest manifestation of an ancient human tendency: the act of worldbuilding. From the Egyptians, whose conception of death inspired them to build the pyramids, to modern-day sports fans, whose passion for a game inspires extreme behavior, humans have long sought to supplement their day-to-day lives with a rich diversity of alternative experiences.

Rooting his vision in history and psychology, Narula argues that humans' intrinsic need for autonomy, accomplishment, and connection can best be met in virtual "worlds of ideas," where users have the chance to create and exchange meaning and value. The metaverse is both the growing set of fulfilling digital experiences—ranging from advanced gaming to concerts and other entertainment events and even to virtual employment—and the empowering framework that allows these spaces to become "networks of useful meaning."

Rigorously researched and passionately argued, VIRTUAL SOCIETY will be a provocative and essential guide for anyone who wants to go beyond superficial headlines to understand the true contours and potential of our virtual future.

Herman Narula is the co-founder and CEO of Improbable, a London-based technology company. He holds a computer science degree from Cambridge.

Katie offers Americans a clear picture of what their elected leaders are doing—and how they’re doing it—exposing the gaps between politicians’ press conferences and real people’s lives. She pulls back the curtain on the political messaging machine, campaign fundraising, and Congress’ traditions, showing that the way things have always worked, in fact, does not work for a Congressperson without someone at home to do the shopping and take care of the kids. Along the way, she provides whiteboard lessons on where your campaign donations go, how to fight the corporations that cheat you, and how to conduct her trademark robust oversight. Full of candid and inspiring stories—from how Katie lent Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez a pair of sneakers during the Capitol attack on January 6, 2021, to her kids’ lightly illegal campaign hijinks—this is a book by an exhausted, committed parent who just doesn’t have the time for nonsense in her house or in the House of Representatives. Katie Porter represents Orange County, California, in Congress. Prior to being elected in 2018, she was a law professor and consumer finance expert.

But as veteran journalist and Alabama native Howell Raines reveals in this momentous history, it was not only Yankee soldiers who helped General William Tecumseh Sherman burn Atlanta to the ground, but also an unsung regiment of 2,066 Alabamian yeoman farmers—including Raines’s own great-great grandfather. Called the First Alabama Cavalry, USA, these “Mountain Unionists” were the point of the spear that Sherman drove through the heart of the Confederacy, and the famed general hailed the regiment as among the most effective cavalymen in his army of nearly 100,000. So why don’t we know anything about them? SILENT CAVALRY is an epic American history that shows how the South won the war after the war, as well as a never-before-told scholarly detective story that exposes how some of the most patriotic Americans of all time were effectively erased from the record. Drawing on family history, the lore of his native Alabama, and investigative skills honed by six decades in journalism, Raines brings to light a conspiracy that sought to undermine the accomplishments of these renegade Southerners, implicating everyone from a former Confederate general to a gaggle of Lost Cause historians in the Ivy League. It’s a saga that weaves between the gleaming archives of Columbia University and the anonymous gravestones near Raines’s childhood home in Alabama. By reversing this historiographic deconstruction, SILENT CAVALRY is a testament to the immense power of storytelling to destroy and, in some cases, to redeem. Howell Raines is a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and former executive editor of The New York Times. He is the author of four previous books: WHISKEY MAN (Viking), THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY (Scribner), FLY FISHING THROUGH THE MIDLIFE CRISIS (William Morrow), and MY SOUL IS RESTED (Putnam).

With both men on the outs with their wives, Robertson moved into Scorsese's place, inaugurating a two-year "lost weekend" of wild revelry and adventure. Though both men had already accomplished culture-changing feats, neither had reached thirty-five years of age, and each in his way stood at a creative precipice, searching for the beginning of a new phase of life and work. Their shared journey would take them around the world and down the rabbit hole of American culture in the long hangover of the seventies, a path lined with equal parts hedonism and paranoia, set against the backdrop of the disco-fueled streets of New York and the grand mansions of Mulholland Drive. With a cast of characters featuring Robert De Niro, Harvey Keitel, Sam Peckinpah, and many more, INSOMNIA is an intimate portrait of a remarkable creative friendship, one that would explore the outer limits of excess and experience before returning to tell the tale. Robbie Robertson was the guitarist and principal songwriter in the Band. He has produced many movie soundtracks for Martin Scorsese and others, and continues to record as a solo artist. But it should also be a cultural exercise, exploring, with deep reporting from the Obama, Trump and Biden administrations, how the very concept of an American first lady has been heading toward a revamp for years. It is particularly ripe for change during the post-Trump era, when many Americans are questioning existing power structures and how those structures affect women. Such a book would particularly engage readers who are becoming more involved in the political process. As a profile subject, Dr. Biden's political life is defined by several compelling themes: her chosen and nontraditional family; her struggle with her own political identity; her initial discomfort with public life; and her lifelong tendency toward rebelliousness. She is as complex a first lady as any who has come before her, coming to power in a country that has never felt so complex, its problems so utterly unsolvable. It makes anything she decides to do as first lady not only historically relevant, but historically important. Katie Rogers is the White House Correspondent for the New York Times and is currently covering the East Wing.

THE CURSE OF THE MARQUIS DE SADE: A Notorious Scoundrel, a Mythical Manuscript, and the Biggest Scandal in Literary History

by Joel Warner

"With the Marquis, the sabotage of rare manuscript sales, and a massive Ponzi scheme at its center, reading THE CURSE OF THE MARQUIS DE SADE felt like I was on a twisty water slide shooting through a sleazy and bizarre landscape. This book is wild."

—Adam McKay

Described as both "one of the most important novels ever written" and "the gospel of evil," 120 Days of Sodom was written by the Marquis de Sade, a notorious eighteenth-century aristocrat who waged a campaign of mayhem and debauchery across France, evaded execution, and inspired the word "sadism," which came to mean receiving pleasure from pain. Despite all his crimes, Sade considered this work to be his greatest transgression. A tiny scroll penned in the bowels of the Bastille in Paris, the original manuscript would embark on a centuries-spanning odyssey across Europe. In 2014, the world heralded its return to France when the scroll was purchased for millions by Gérard Lhéritier, the self-made son of a plumber who had used his savvy business skills to upend France's renowned rare-book market. But the sale opened the door to vendettas by the government, feuds among antiquarian booksellers, manuscript sales derailed by sabotage, a record-breaking lottery jackpot, and allegations of a decade-long billion-euro con, the specifics of which, if true, would make the scroll part of France's largest-ever Ponzi scheme.

Told with gripping reporting and flush with deceit and scandal, Warner weaves the sweeping odyssey of 120 Days of Sodom, an emblem of social and political revolution, and the spectacular rise and fall of Lhéritier, once the "king of manuscripts" and now the Bernie Madoff of France. At the center of these braided narratives resides an urgent question for all those who cherish the written word: As the age of handwriting comes to an end, what do we owe the original texts left behind?

Joel Warner is a writer and editor whose work has appeared in Esquire, Wired, Newsweek, Men's Journal, Bloomberg Businessweek, Popular Science, and Slate, among others. He currently serves as managing editor of the investigative news outlet The Lever and previously worked as a staff writer at International Business Times and Westword.

UNTITLED ON CAPITALISMby Michael Weatherley-White

A reimagining of the future of capitalism. The book will help us see capitalism as a dynamic, ever-evolving system capable of adapting to shifts in the cultural mores and values. It will invite readers to envision - and strive to build - a more conscious, inclusive form of capitalism in which money and markets work in the service of all people, society, and the planet, rather than the other way around.

Matthew Weatherley-White is managing director and co-founder of The CAPROCK Group, managing over $1 billion in impact investing funds. Matthew currently lives in Boise, Idaho.

OUTLIVE: The Science and Art of Longevity by Peter Attia, MD with Bill Gifford

Visionary thinker and renowned longevity physician Peter Attia reimagines medicine and redefines aging through his innovative science-based strategies to maximize longevity.

To Peter Attia, longevity does not mean merely living longer. He sees longevity as the opportunity to live better for longer. But, accomplishing this requires a complete change in the way we think about and approach health and wellness. Attia proposes an exciting, new vision of Western medicine that reframes our thinking and our actions.

Attia's goal is to shift the mindset we currently have in medicine that focuses on solving the health issue once it arises to assessing the risks and customizing treatment before they actually occur. He calls this Medicine 3.0, a new way of thinking about chronic diseases, their treatment, and how to maintain long-term health. Most books and physicians are interested in improving your lifespan (how long you live), but Peter's focus is on improving healthspan (the quality of your life). In OUTLIVE, Attia shows readers exactly how to do this through nutritional interventions, exercise physiology, sleep physiology, emotional and mental health strategies, and pharmacology.

Dr. Attia is a sought-after speaker, is well-connected with big names like Jeff Bezos, Elon Musk and Tim Ferriss, among others, and his podcast, The Drive, averages 150K downloads/episode and 1M monthly downloads. He will also be featured in the forthcoming Limitless with Chris Hemsworth, a series on longevity from National Geographic.

Peter Attia, MD is a physician focusing on the applied science of longevity. He trained for five years at the Johns Hopkins Hospital in general surgery. He is the co-founder and Chief Medical Officer of the fasting app Zero. He is also on the editorial board for the journal, Aging. And has a podcast called The Drive. He is the expert that the "big names" of the world get their medical information from.

THE HORMONE SHIFT
by Dr. Tasneem Bhatia

Praise for Dr. Bhatia's previous book SUPER WOMAN RX:

"SUPER WOMAN RX eloquently manifests the notion of knowledge leading to empowerment. This is rich information in a totally actionable presentation that opens the door for women's health."

—David Perlmutter, MD, New York Times bestselling author of GRAIN BRAIN and BRAIN MAKER

A fresh, integrative look at the changing hormones surrounding menopause and all its stages from Goop's new hormone authority.

Dr. Tasneem, known as Dr. Taz, offers an east-meets-west approach to women's health and reframes menopause and breaks down what is happening behind the scenes of a woman's body throughout her life, and explains how to prepare for whatever is coming next, and offering plans to keep the body in balance and minimize unwanted symptoms. There's so much that women can do in the years leading up to perimenopause and menopause to prepare their bodies for the changes ahead and make the shift smoother than they ever thought possible.

Tasneem Bhatia, M.D., is a board-certified physician, the founder and medical director of the Atlanta Center for Holistic and Integrative Medicine, and a fellow at the Arizona Center for Integrative Medicine of the University of Arizona (led by Dr. Andrew Weil). Best known as Dr. Taz, M.D., she has been featured on The Dr. Oz Show, Today, Live with Kelly and CNN. She is also the author of SUPER WOMAN RX (Rodale, 2017).

ATHLEANX'S TRAIN LIKE AN ATHLETE: Intelligent Training to Build the Ultimate Body
by Jeff Cavaliere

The new bible of bodybuilding from the sought-after trainer behind YouTube's #1 fitness channel, featuring his signature science-based approach to functional training.

AthleanX puts the science into strength training. This unique strength training and conditioning program—including plans for nutrition and supplementation as well as step-by-step guides to the exercises—gives users the lean, muscular, functional bodies of professional athletes. Other fitness books and programs are based on a bodybuilding model, which can make you look stronger, but Jeff Cavaliere shows you how to hit the gym without falling into the common "bro" traps: poor posture and flexibility, muscle imbalances, joint stiffness, pain, and injury. His sports-medicine-based approach centered on injury prevention has earned him his rabid, massive fanbase.

In ATHLEANX'S TRAIN LIKE AN ATHLETE, Cavaliere goes deeper into his philosophy of functional training than he ever has. The book includes 100 step-by-step photos of Jeff demonstrating proper form for injury and pain prevention as well as Jeff's essential program for intelligent training, plus nutritional and supplementation plans.

Jeff Cavaliere, MS PT CSCS, is a highly sought-after personal trainer to elite athletes, wrestlers, and MMA fighters. Today he runs the wildly popular YouTube channel AthleanX (across platforms he has over 7 million followers; he posts 3 videos a week, with a number of videos have over a million views), which brings intelligent training to the everyday gymgoer.

Manuscript January 2023

New York Times bestselling author Deepak Chopra joins forces with leading physicist Jack Tuszynski and endocrinologist Brian Fertig, MD to break the barriers of science by questioning if aging is a mistake and exploring how to effectively age well and live longer.

Thirty-five years ago, Deepak Chopra's landmark book, Quantum Healing, radically changed how we view our personal health. Now, on the anniversary of that seminal work, Chopra teams up with two leading scientists to once again break barriers and help readers to further control their health by slowing the aging process. The key is in understanding our metabolism on a cellular level. New research suggests that by directing the brain to work for us more efficiently, we can rewire our metabolic states, turn aging on its head, prevent disease, and keep at bay what we have accepted as the inevitable deterioration of body and mind. Coronary disease, type-2 diabetes, and cancer do not have to exist in this day and age. Explosive, erudite, inspiring, and practical, QUANTUM BODY is a visionary work on the new frontiers of health.

THE SCARCITY BRAIN: Rewire Your "More" Mindset and Learn to Thrive with Enough
by Michael Easter

A new big idea book from the author of THE COMFORT CRISIS (Rodale, 2021) that offers a mix of scientific narrative and investigative journalism, revealing why humans are hardwired to crave more and how that drive is now putting us and our planet in peril, and what we can all learn from the extraordinary individuals and cultures that have found satisfaction and sustainability living with less.

Since the emergence of life on Earth, more has made sense; having more food, shelter, and sex simply made it easier to survive. We're engineered to constantly crave more. Our hardwired "scarcity brain" compels us to eat more, buy more, and do more, even when it doesn't make us happy. In the wake of the pandemic, scarcity brain has gone into overdrive, and our insatiable desire for abundance make us sick and ultimately threatens our planet.

Easter traveled the world to find visionaries who offer solutions to our collective scarcity brain--from profound lessons in healthy living from a lost Amazonian tribe to what a champion Naked and Afraid competitor can teach us about appreciating all that we already have, sharing unexpected ways to thrive on enough.

Michael Easter is a contributing editor at Men's Health magazine, columnist for Outside magazine, and professor at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. His work has appeared in more than sixty countries and can also be found in Men's Journal, New York, Vice, Scientific American, Esquire, and others.

WE OVER ME: The Counterintuitive Approach to Getting Everything You Want from Your RELATIONSHIP

by Khadeen and Devale Ellis

The stars of the YouTube show The Ellises and hosts of the Webby award-winning podcast Dead Ass share the core pillars of their relationship as Black millennial lovers and parents that have allowed them to thrive in marriage.

After ten years of marriage, eighteen years together, and four kids, Devale and Khadeen Ellis have been through a lot. They've become one of the Internet's favorite couples over the years, chronicling their day-to-day life and often hilarious moments with their boys. Now they're sharing the messy, behind-the-scenes work of what it takes to succeed together and support one another in their search for individual purpose, while growing in their marriage.

With honesty and transparency, they discuss family, parenting, sex and intimacy, finances, and commitment, giving their individual and collective experience, advice, and struggles with each topic. Khadeen and Devale normalize hard conversations about monogamy in marriage, traditional gender roles, and resolving old traumas to build a stronger relationship. Their personal and relatable truths will inspire readers to level up in their own lives and nurture a healthy, loving relationship.

Devale Ellis is a former NFL player turned actor, currently lead on Tyler Perry's Sistas on BET. Khadeen Ellis is a TV host and three-season alum of the OWN docuseries Black Love. Their podcast, Dead Ass, covers love, sex, and marriage, with notable guests including Joe Biden, Louis Carr, Tiffany Aliche, Shan Boodram, and many others.

BUILD FOR TOMORROW: An Action Plan for Embracing Change, Adapting Fast, and Future-Proofing Your Career

by Jason Feifer

Adapt more quickly and use the power of change to your advantage with this guide from the editor in chief of Entrepreneur magazine and host of the Build for Tomorrow podcast.

We experience change in four phases. The first is panic. Then we adapt. Then we find a new normal. And then, finally, we reach the phase we could not have imagined in the beginning, the moment when we realize that we wouldn't go back.

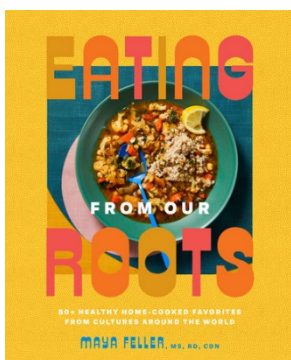

BUILD FOR TOMORROW is designed to accelerate that process—to help you lessen your panic, adapt faster, define the new normal, and thrive going forward. And it arrives as we all, in some way, have felt a shift in our lives. The pandemic forced a moment of collective change, and we are still being forced to make new plans and adjustments to our lives, families, and careers. Many of us will never go back, continuing to work from home, demanding higher wages, or starting new businesses.

To help people along this journey, Feifer offers stories, lessons, and concrete exercises from the most potent sources of change in our world. He speaks to the world's most successful changemakers—from global celebrities like Dwayne “The Rock” Johnson and Maria Sharapova to innovative CEOs and Main Street heroes—to learn how they decide what to protect, what to discard, and how to move forward without fear. He also draws lessons from history, looking at how massive changes across time can help us better understand the opportunities of today.

We cannot anticipate tomorrow's needs, but it shouldn't take a crisis to push us forward. This book will show you how to make change on your own terms.

Jason Feifer has worked as an editor at Men's Health, Fast Company, Maxim, and Boston magazine and has written about business and technology for the Washington Post, New York Times, and Slate. With intimate access to the world's greatest and most influential change-makers, he has spent years studying how change happens and how the most successful people have adapted. He is also the host of the popular podcast Pessimists Archive, a deeply researched show that explores the history of our resistance to change.

IT'S NOT YOU

by Jo-Ann Finkelstein

Jo-Ann Finkelstein is a Harvard-trained psychologist who for two decades has worked with girls and women finding their own voices. IT'S NOT YOU brings developmental theory and parenting practice together in a signature perspective that helps parents safeguard and fine-tune their daughters' natural "sexism detectors"—and guides them in how to audit their own assumptions and behaviors so they can raise daughters who recognize inequality when they see it and prepare to fight back.

Jo-Ann Finkelstein has a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from Northwestern University and a Masters in Human Development and Psychology from Harvard University.

A MAP TO YOUR SOUL: Using the Astrology of Fire, Earth, Air, and Water to Live Deeply and Fully

by Jennifer Freed

“Jennifer Freed is one of my favorite spiritual teachers and her fresh wisdom in A Map to Your Soul is a North Star.”—Glennon Doyle, author of the #1 New York Times bestseller Untamed, founder of Together Rising

Entirely accessible but infused with the mysticism of the cosmos, A MAP TO YOUR SOUL shows how to design your life by the four elements that exist both within nature and within each one of us: Fire, Earth, Air, and Water. Dr. Jennifer Freed is Goop’s resident astrologer and the perfect person to show readers how to decode and tap into the gifts of their elemental blend thanks to her Ph.D. in psychology in addition to training as an astrologer.

There are four elements—fire, earth, air, and water—that exist in nature and within us all. Each of us has a unique constellation of the four elements inside of us that manifest in distinct ways in different areas of our lives. You may be fiery when challenged at work but grounded in earthy routine when it comes to your health. Many of us are disconnected from our own natures, caught up in the digital demands of the modern world, hurtling headlong through fast-paced, busy lives. But these four elements, when used with intention, offer up indispensable wisdom for both surviving and thriving.

By balancing the elements within us, we can find the antidote to emptiness, anxiety, and sadness and truly flourish.

Jennifer Freed PhD is a renowned psychological astrologer and social and emotional education trainer. She has spent over thirty-five years consulting clients and businesses worldwide on psychological, spiritual, and educational topics. A regular contributor to goop, Jennifer has penned ten books relating to personal growth, and she has been interviewed for her expertise by the New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, USA Today, People Magazine, and Vogue.

MAKING GREAT RELATIONSHIPS: Simple Practices for Solving Conflicts, Building Cooperation, and Fostering Love
by Rick Hanson, PhD

*"Our relationships are more important than ever, but they can also be full of conflict, strained silences, and missed opportunities. With his usual warmth and practical focus, Rick Hanson offers 50 simple, powerful ways to improve your relationships at home and at work, whether it's asserting yourself effectively or deepening an intimate friendship. Even if 'they' don't change, he shows you how to step out of no-win struggles, respect your own needs, and feel at peace. A nourishing, useful, and timely book." —Lori Gottlieb, New York Times bestselling author of *Maybe You Should Talk To Someone

In MAKING GREAT RELATIONSHIPS, Rick Hanson brings his trademark warmth and clarity to offer the fundamental tools and skills that foster lasting and fulfilling relationships of all kinds: at home and at work, with family and friends, and with people who are challenging.

Grounded in brain science and clinical psychology, and informed by contemplative wisdom, MAKING GREAT RELATIONSHIPS offers 52 simple yet powerful practices for building healthy relationships, including how to feel that you truly deserve good treatment from others; how to let go of toxic self-criticism; how to feel less anxious in groups; how to tap into the neural circuitry of calm strength and self-worth; how to set and keep healthy boundaries; and how to express your wants with others in ways that make them more likely to be respected and fulfilled.

Rick Hanson, PhD, is a psychologist, senior fellow of UC Berkeley's Greater Good Science Center, and New York Times bestselling author. His books have been published in twenty-nine languages and include NEURODHARMA, RESILIENT, HARDWIRING HAPPINESS, BUDDHA'S BRAIN, JUST ONE THING, and MOTHER NURTURE, with 900,000 copies in English alone. An expert on positive neuroplasticity, his work has been featured on the BBC, CBS, NPR, and other major media.

THE GALVESTON DIET: The Doctor-Developed, Patient-Proven Plan to Burn Fat and Tame Your Hormonal Symptoms

by Mary Claire Haver, MD

Women's bodies are constantly changing, but one constant is that they tend to store more fat and have a tougher time converting calories to muscle than do men. In midlife, these differences are amplified by hormonal fluctuation, and most women gain stubborn and harmful weight—especially around the belly—without having changed a thing in their routine. Dr. Haver, a practicing OB/GYN and nutritional expert, found herself in this exact predicament, so she set out to develop a diet that would meet her specific midlife needs.

More than 66,000 women have now tested—and found success in—Dr. Haver's proprietary plan for permanent weight loss, and she has distilled these results into three pillars of behavior: fuel refocus, intermittent fasting, and anti-inflammatory nutrition. With these three principles working together synergistically, women will lose stubborn weight as well as enjoy newfound energy, better sleep, less brain fog, and fewer hot flashes.

With 40 new and delicious recipes, easy-to-follow meal plans, week-at-a-glance shopping lists, and success stories of women who have changed their lives on this plan, THE GALVESTON DIET will revolutionize the conversation around weight loss in menopause, and help women gain health benefits that last a lifetime.

Mary Claire Haver, MD is a wife, mom, board-certified OB/GYN and entrepreneur who has devoted her adult life to women's health. Author site: www.galvestondiet.com

HOW BASKETBALL CAN SAVE THE WORLD: 13 Guiding Principles for Reimagining What's Possible

by David Hollander

"You learn very powerful things in basketball: how to be in sync with other people and the pleasure of that; a sense of 'I belong here' and 'I'm an important part of a larger thing' and that we all are in the same boat, we're all human beings. Hollander has hit at the core of something very fundamental."—

Bessel van der Kolk, MD, New York Times bestselling author of The Body Keeps the Score

When New York University professor David Hollander introduced a course called "How Basketball Can Save the World," it became a sensation almost overnight. For the class, Hollander invites current NBA and WNBA superstars, Hall of Fame players, coaches, and other cultural figures to debate and give insights on how the underlying principles of the game of basketball can provide a new blueprint for addressing our diverse challenges and showing what's possible beyond the court. Now, in HOW BASKETBALL CAN SAVE THE WORLD, Hollander moves beyond the classroom to present a beautiful new philosophy based on values inherent to basketball, such as inclusion and the balancing of individual success with the needs of the collective.

Whether you're a seasoned veteran of the game or have never set foot on a court, HOW BASKETBALL CAN SAVE THE WORLD will empower you to become more resilient, tolerant, and wise in your relationship with yourself, others, and the world around you.

David Hollander, JD, is an assistant dean and clinical professor with the Tisch Institute for Global Sport at New York University. His innovative courses have been featured in The New York Times, The Washington Post, SLAM, Axios, and CBS News.

EIGHT FAILURES THAT CAN MAKE YOUR CHILD A SUCCESS: How to Turn Your Child's Setbacks, Blunders, and Rebellions into Moments of Growth

by Michelle Icard

From the author of FOURTEEN TALKS BY AGE FOURTEEN (Harmony, 2021) comes a playbook for anxious parents everywhere. EIGHT FAILURES THAT CAN MAKE YOUR CHILD A SUCCESS offers specific and invaluable advice about what to say, what not to say, and what to do to help children in eight categories of tense situations. Distilled from Michelle Icard's decades of experience working with tweens, teenagers, and families, it also introduces her signature three-step approach to any kind of failure:

- Contain: affirm your child, gather the facts, control the narrative.
- Resolve: explain what they did wrong, define clear consequences, teach them to apologize well, develop a plan to rebuild trust.
- Evolve: reaffirm and re-expand their rights, establish rewards for good behaviors.

With empathy, insight, and good humor, Michelle Icard's advice ensures that a child's mess up doesn't become the headline of their childhood, but instead becomes a launch pad to a better future.

Michelle Icard is a member of the Today show parenting team and NBC News Learn. The author of MIDDLE SCHOOL MAKEOVER and FOURTEEN TALKS BY AGE FOURTEEN, her work has been featured in the Washington Post, Chicago Tribune, The Christian Science Monitor, Redbook, Time, and People.

THE GRUDGE LIST: A Memoir of Recovery and Forgiveness
by Tiffany Jenkins

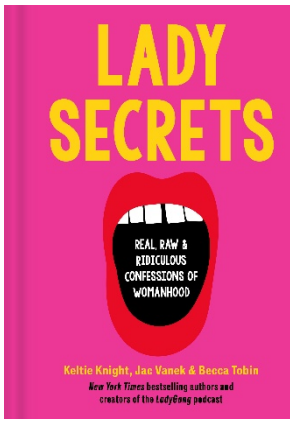

"Life is strange. One minute you're committing felonies and shooting up drugs in the bathroom of the police precinct, and the next you're rushing to bring cupcakes to your kids' kindergarten class," writes Tiffany Jenkins. Relatable, right?

This new memoir about addiction, recovery, mental health, and forgiveness from the national bestselling author of HIGH ACHIEVER (Harmony, 2019), opens as Tiffany surveys the upscale suburban neighborhood she now calls home, complete with families walking dogs and white picket fences, and still feels on the inside like that same person who shattered her life for the chance to get high. Terrified of relapsing, she meets with her sponsor, who hands her a leather-bound journal and informs her that her next step in recovery (one you don't hear about at the official meetings) is to make her Grudge List. A list of everyone who's pissed her off so that she can figure out what she's bringing from her past into her beautiful life.

As Tiffany journals about the pain and resentment from her childhood, teen years, and twenties with her trademark dark humor and self-deprecation, she brings the reader on a journey of mental health, forgiveness, and self-acceptance. THE GRUDGE LIST combines humor with emotionally raw storytelling as Tiffany explores how we carry our pasts inside of us and digs beneath her grudges to find gratitude and peace.

Tiffany Jenkins is the bestselling author of HIGH ACHIEVER and writes about motherhood, addiction, marriage, and life on her blog, Juggling the Jenkins, where she has acquired a huge social media following.

LADY SECRETS: Real, Raw, and Ridiculous Confessions of Womanhood
by Keltie Knight, Jac Vanek and Becca Tobin

A new book of hilarious, mortifying, and scandalous stories of stumbling through womanhood from the New York Times bestselling authors of ACT LIKE A LADY (Rodale, 2020) and hosts of the popular podcast LadyGang. Every lady has a secret: an encounter so awkward and embarrassing that you wouldn't dare tell another soul.

In LADY SECRETS, the Lady Gang digs even deeper into the embarrassing memories that they thought were repressed forever, and shares stories from women in the LadyGang community to create a space for ladies to let go of the shame of holding on to their secrets. The collection of essays, short stories, advice, lessons, and illustrations will center around topics like Sex, Marriage, Dating, Body, Birth, Parenting, Work, Friends, Fraud, Lies, and more.

Keltie Knight is an Emmy Award-winning television personality and a host on CBS's Entertainment Tonight. Becca Tobin is an actress, singer, dancer, and host who first broke into the pop culture zeitgeist when she landed the role of Kitty on Fox Television's internationally acclaimed show Glee. Jac Vanek is a self-made entrepreneur, CEO, and one of the most powerful fashion and music influencers of her generation.

THE 6 PHASE MEDITATION METHOD: The Proven Technique to Supercharge Your Mind, Manifest Your Goals, and Make Magic in Minutes a Day by Vishen Lakhiani

"Vishen's meditation program is a beautiful step-by-step guide that artfully combines gratitude, manifestation, and emotional mastery into a few minutes per day. Don't just read this book, practice it."—Jay Shetty, author of the New York Times bestseller Think Like a Monk

The New York Times bestselling author of THE BUDDHA AND THE BADASS (Rodale, 2020) and THE CODE OF THE EXTRAORDINARY MIND (Rodale, 2016) hacks meditation with his signature hyper-efficient 6 Phase Meditation Program that anyone can make time for.

There are hundreds of types of meditation out there. But entrepreneur Vishen Lakhiani credits his success to a condensed, magic-making, joy-creating, productivity-inducing, goal-smashing mega meditation: The 6 Phase Meditation. He pulled from thousands of years of psycho-spiritual wisdom, cherry-picked the best bits, translated it all into plain English, and put it into a logical, 15-minute practice that anyone can master. The 6 phases are centered on Connection, Gratitude, Forgiveness, Envisioning Your Future, Daily Intention, and Blessing, and only demand 15 minutes of your day.

No matter what you've got going on, you can thrive because you've trained for all of life's insanity on your meditation cushion.

Vishen Lakhiani is the founder and CEO of Mindvalley, a personal growth education empire with more than two million students, which teaches revolutionary success systems for mastering life via online learning platforms, storytelling and filmmaking, and live events. HOW TO ADHD

by Jessica McCabe

Jessica McCabe, ADHD advocate and the creator of the YouTube channel How to ADHD, shares her hard-won insights and game-changing practical strategies that will teach you how to work with, understand, and celebrate your ADHD brain.

For most of her life, Jessica struggled with a brain that she didn't understand. Diagnosed with ADHD at age 12, she saw the condition touch every aspect of her life. She was a gifted student but was often distracted in the classroom. Despite her best efforts, she constantly lost her belongings, had trouble managing her relationships, and showed up late to appointments. By 32, Jessica had dropped out of college, quit or been fired from fifteen jobs, and ruined her credit. She was waiting tables and living with her mom, feeling behind in life. Determined to figure out why she was struggling, Jessica sought out more information about ADHD. She reached out to experts, read articles and peer-reviewed studies, and shared her discoveries in the one place she would find them again—YouTube. Her channel, How to ADHD, has won her devoted fans by offering an unflinching look at the realities of living with this condition, powerful research-backed strategies, and a shame-free space that allows those with ADHD to feel seen.

Jessica McCabe is the creator of How to ADHD, a popular YouTube channel with videos that teach strategies and offer resources for viewers with ADHD (1.07M subscribers). Jessica has been profiled in The New York Times and has been featured in publications including The Washington Post, Today.com, Upworthy, and ADDitude Magazine, among others. She is also known for her popular TEDx Talk, which has garnered more than 3.5 million views. She is based in Seattle, WA.

TOXIC SUPERFOODS: How Oxalate Overload Is Making You Sick—and How to Get Better by Sally Norton

"Sally Norton's well-researched book makes a truly important contribution in revealing just how much oxalates can damage the body. The conventional advice to eat "mostly plants" is seriously challenged by the reality that plants contain known toxins. Norton makes a compelling case that oxalates are the x-factor contributing to many mysterious health conditions."

—Nina Teicholz, author of The Big Fat Surprise

Sally Norton overturns conventional wisdom in this eye-opening guide to healing from the toxin lurking within certain leafy greens, sweet potatoes, turmeric, almonds, and other commonly touted "superfoods."

Have you been following the advice of clean-eating experts in the hope of feeling better or losing weight, only to find your stomach hurting, joints aching, energy flagging, or autoimmune condition flaring up? The foods that come to mind when you think "healthy eating"—spinach, sweet potatoes, turmeric, chia seeds, berries, and almonds—are all high in oxalates, chemical toxins produced by plants that build up in the body over time and lead to a range of issues. To put it plainly: Your spinach smoothie might be making you sick.

After suffering for decades from chronic joint inflammation and other problems, Sally Norton, MPH, discovered that the culprits—oxalates—were hiding within her healthy, organic vegetarian diet. She now works with clients to safely reverse their oxalate load and shares their surprising stories. Oxalates most famously cause kidney stones, but they are also behind gut problems, chronic pain, joint pain, inflammation, autoimmune conditions, mineral deficiency, sleep disorders, osteoporosis, fatigue, and brain fog. Modern diets tend to be overloaded with oxalates, and Norton believes that most of us would enjoy better lifelong health with less oxalate in our food.

Sally Norton, MPH, is a health and nutrition educator. She received her bachelor's degree in nutritional science from Cornell University and her master's degree in public health from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

THE SUGAR RESET DIET: Embrace Healthy Carbs, Break Up with Sugar, and Take Control of Your Health
by Harley Pasternak

For the past thirty years, low-carb diet trends from Atkins to Keto have dominated nutrition culture. But studies show the carb-starved approach just doesn't work in the long run—it requires too much sacrifice and effort and vilifies carbs and fruit in a way that's unhealthy and unsustainable. In fact, complex carbs can and should be a dietary staple—the real problem is refined carbs that turn into sugar, leading to inflammation, weight gain, and a toxic cycle of sugar addiction.

Harley Pasternak, nutritionist and fitness trainer to the stars, introduces a 2:2:1 diet plan designed to help your body use the right carbs at the right times. At each meal, you'll enjoy two servings of carbohydrates, two servings of protein, and one serving of fat. By including carbs in every meal, you'll feel more satisfied, cut cravings, and become healthier without having to overthink anything. On any given day, Harley's meal plan might include French toast, grilled cheese, or spaghetti. The result: sustainable weight loss that lasts, and a plan you can follow without burnout.

Harley Pasternak, M. Sc., is a New York Times bestselling author and holds a Master of Science in exercise physiology and nutritional sciences from the University of Toronto, as well as an honors degree in kinesiology from The University of Western Ontario. He is certified by the American College of Sports Medicine and the Canadian Society for Exercise Physiology. He has appeared on The Oprah Winfrey Show, Today, CNN, America's Next Top Model, Rachael Ray, and Tyra. Pasternak lives and works in Los Angeles.

DR. KELLYANN'S BONE BROTH BREAKTHROUGH: Turn Back the Clock, Reset the Scale, Replenish Your Power
by Kellyann Petrucci

Bone broth is a metabolism-firing, fat-burning, and bloat-reducing elixir, which is why it was the star of DR. KELLYANN'S BONE BROTH DIET (Rodale, 2015), the New York Times bestselling book that paired broth with intermittent fasting and has helped hundreds of thousands of women lose dramatic weight. The collagen in bone broth also naturally plumps skin and reduces wrinkles. But in addition to its aesthetic benefits, bone broth has antioxidative, digestive, and stress-reducing properties, making it an essential ingredient for harmonizing your body's digestive function after a restrictive diet, and for maintaining your hard-won weight without compromising foundational health.

Drawing on Dr. Kellyann's more than twenty years of practice and her own health transformation journey, DR. KELLYANN'S BONE BROTH BREAKTHROUGH helps you reap the myriad benefits of this versatile wonder ingredient for six common health concerns—weight loss, wrinkles, digestion, fatigue, libido, and stress. With the 35 new, easy-to-make, and delicious recipes that are customized to mitigate these persistent issues, advice for building a nourishing and "happy plate" at every meal, and guidance on how to build a weekly meal plan that works for you, it is an essential, simmer-and-sip blueprint for an energized mind and body.

Kellyann Petrucci, MS, ND, is a board-certified naturopathic physician, a certified nutrition consultant, and the author of four books, including the New York Times bestseller DR. KELLYANN'S BONE BROTH DIET and DR. KELLYANN'S CLEANSE AND RESET. A concierge doctor for celebrities in New York and Los Angeles, Dr. Kellyann has been a host for public television specials and has been featured on The Dr. Oz Show, The Doctors, Good Morning America, and Today.

LIGHTER: Let Go of the Past, Connect with the Present, and Expand the Future
 by Yung Pueblo

“Yung Pueblo is the real deal—a modern sage and guiding light. In his new book, he beautifully illustrates how finding harmony within is the key to creating a progressive society built on compassion, clarity, and understanding. This is a book everyone must read, many times over.”—Vex King, #1 Sunday Times bestselling author of Healing Is the New High

The poet, meditator, transformation speaker, Instagram sensation, and New York Times bestselling author of CLARITY & CONNECTION (Andrews McMeel), offers a powerful and radically compassionate plan for turning inward and lifting the heaviness that prevents us from healing ourselves and the world. Known for his Instagram poetry, this is his first self-help guide for his 1.7 million active followers on Instagram.

Yung Pueblo’s path to deep healing began only after years of drug abuse had taken a toll on his body and soul. Searching for a way forward, he found that by honestly examining and addressing the anxieties and fears that he had been running away from, he no longer felt like a stranger inside of his heart and mind.

In LIGHTER, Yung Pueblo demonstrates how we can all move forward in our healing, from learning self-compassion to letting go to becoming emotionally mature. As the heaviness falls away, our minds will finally stop feeling overburdened with tension and we’ll be able to reconnect with the present. And the world around us will hopefully become more inviting in crisp and newly vibrant ways. But these are just the first steps. As we grow stronger and take on more knowledge, it’s our responsibility—and also part of the healing journey—to take actions to support the health and harmony of all people.

Yung Pueblo is the pen name of the writer Diego Perez and means “young people.” The name is meant to convey that humanity is entering an era of remarkable growth and healing, when many will expand their self-awareness and release old burdens. He is the author of two poetry books, CLARIFY & CONNECTION and INWARD (Andrews McMeel). Author site: <https://yungpueblo.com/>

YOU OWE YOU: Discover Your Power, Your Purpose, and Your Why

by Eric Thomas

NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER!

If you feel like success is for others, that only certain people get to have their dreams fulfilled, Eric Thomas's YOU OWE YOU is your wake-up call. His urgent message to stop waiting for inspiration to strike and take control of your life is one he wishes someone had given him when he was a teenager—lost, homeless, failing in school, and dealing with the challenges of being a young Black man in America.

Once he was able to break free from thinking of himself as a victim and truly understand his strengths, he switched the script. And now, with this book, Thomas reveals how you too can rewrite your life's script. Thomas's secrets of success have already helped hundreds of thousands on their journey, but this is his first guide to show you how to start today, right now. These critical first steps include deeply understanding yourself and the world around you, finding your why, accepting that you may have to give up something good for something great, and constantly stretching toward your potential. No matter where you are on your journey toward greatness, you owe it to yourself to become fully, authentically you. And Eric Thomas can help get you there.

Eric Thomas, Ph.D., part coach, part preacher, all grind, is one of the world's best known motivational speakers. In addition to reaching millions on YouTube, he works with many top businesses, the NFL, NBA, and the NCAA, and dozens of individual teams and players, as well as schools and prisons across the country.

THE HEART IS THE STRONGEST MUSCLE

by Tia Toomey

Discover how to channel your inner fight and become your own champion, from the six-time CrossFit Games champion and fittest woman on earth, Tia Toomey. She is one of the most accomplished athletes in human history, and millions now look to her for advice and inspiration.

In THE HEART IS THE STRONGEST MUSCLE, Toomey shows how she reached elite status by focusing on her soul and mind, not just her body. From the early days of her fitness journey to the peak performance that has put her atop the podium in the CrossFit Games, Toomey reveals the secrets, struggles, and successes that have made her one of the world's most beloved athletes and role models. The book is for anyone seeking guidance on how to get mentally stronger, tougher, and more resilient.

Toomey's core principles include:

- Look at yourself as a champion, not just a participant
- Don't give in to the temptation to feel sorry for yourself
- Follow your own star: You only have to prove your worth to yourself
- Never lose heart in the game—or in life

For Toomey, physical fitness is only a small part of overall wellness. More important is building your mental toughness. Nothing comes easy, but in THE HEART IS THE STRONGEST MUSCLE, she lays out the motivational lessons she has tested by fire, for anyone looking for an edge in any pursuit.

Tia Toomey is an Australian weightlifter and CrossFit Games athlete, and she has 1.7m followers on Instagram.

WHAT HAPPENS FROM HERE IS UP TO YOU: Getting Lost, Finding Life, and Reclaiming the American Dream

by Brent Underwood

A radical vision for setting impossible goals and being brave enough to see them through—no matter the risk or the challenge—from the creator of the hit YouTube channel Ghost Town Living.

Revitalizing a defunct ghost town known as the "Forever Fixer Upper" in the mountains above Death Valley, California is not everyone's idea of a dream job, but for Brent Underwood, it was a chance at living his own modern American Dream. Brent had gone to business school and landed a coveted job in investment banking, but he quickly realized the 9-5 office culture that relegated adventures only to the weekends wasn't for him. This realization ultimately led him to buy the historic mining town of Cerro Gordo, once one of the biggest exporters of silver in America. Then disaster struck: The American Hotel, the one gem and possible revenue generator in town, burned down in an accidental fire. Cerro Gordo's previous caretaker told Brent that while he couldn't change what had already happened, "What happens from here is up to you." This inspirational line helped Brent move forward to create something new.

In WHAT HAPPENS FROM HERE IS UP TO YOU, Brent explores the triumphs and failures of attempting to reimagine and revive the Wild West town. Along the way, he learns how to live—and what to live for. This is a call-to-action to question our perception of risk, seek adventure, build something original, rewrite the rules on what work means, and embrace the unknown.

Brent Underwood's YouTube channel, Ghost Town Living, has over 1.5 million subscribers, and his videos on YouTube, Instagram, and TikTok get up to 70 million combined plays per month. He has also been profiled at length by The New York Times, The Guardian, VICE, CNBC, BBC, Los Angeles Times, and many more.

REMEMBER LOVE

by Cleo Wade

REMEMBER LOVE is Cleo Wade's most personal work yet. It is stylistically Bell Hooks's ALL ABOUT LOVE meets Maya Angelou's SONG BIRD with a sprinkle of RuPaul. It is bare bones honest about motherhood love, romantic love, selflove, friendship love, and family love. It goes beyond the mantras and poetry into depths of Cleo's own experiences, sharing for the first time her life in essay form.

A flowing mix of poetry, wisdom, prose and heart, this book is for the reader of Anne Lamott, Glennon Doyle and Pema Chodron. It's Cleo Wade as not just a poet and friend, but as a woman who has lived through dark times and still found joy. Who has been worn down to the bone and still got up in the morning. Who reminds readers of a small but mighty message, REMEMBER LOVE.

Cleo Wade is a community builder and the author of the bestselling book HEART TALK: POETIC WISDOM FOR A BETTER LIFE (S&S) as well as WHERE TO BEGIN (Atria). She has been named one of America's 50 Most Influential Women by Marie Claire, 100 Most Creative People in Business by Fast Company, and "The Millennial Oprah" by New York magazine.

THE ELEVATION APPROACH: Harness the Power of Work-Life Harmony to Unlock Your Creativity, Cultivate Joy, and Reach Your Biggest Goals
by Tina Wells with Stephanie Smith

Elevate your life, cultivate joy, and live with purpose using this innovative framework for finding work-life harmony from an accomplished entrepreneur and business strategist.

Throughout her multifaceted career, Tina Wells has always found a way to transform her dreams into reality. She turned a business that she launched at sixteen into an award-winning marketing agency, led boardroom meetings as the youngest (and sometimes only) Black woman in the room, and pursued her childhood dream of traveling around the world. But all that success came with burnout, and Tina had to rethink how she thought about work and life. The result of her deep thinking and some trial and error, THE ELEVATION APPROACH presents Tina's four-phase plan, a flexible and foolproof technique that helps you meet your goals without sacrificing joy for productivity and progress.

Whether you want to start a new business, find time for a new hobby, or reevaluate a relationship, The Elevation Approach can help you make impactful shifts and realize your most cherished dreams—without losing sight of what matters most to you. With writing prompts and exercises, real-world insights from business leaders and creatives, and “Instant Elevation” practices that ensure your efforts align with your priorities in each phase, THE ELEVATION APPROACH is a one-stop solution to work-life harmony.

Tina Wells is the founder of RLVNT Media, a multimedia content venture serving entrepreneurs, tweens, and culturists with authentic representation. Tina has been recognized by Fast Company's 100 Most Creative People in Business, Essence's 40 Under 40, Cosmopolitan's Fun Fearless Phenom, and more. She is the author of nine books, including the best-selling tween fiction series MACKENZIE BLUE (Harpercollins), its 2020 spinoff series, THE ZEE FILES (Ingram), and the marketing handbook, CHASING YOUTH CULTURE AND GETTING IT RIGHT.

A Midwestern girl living in New York, Stephanie Smith is a New York Post Page Six reporter and writer whose blog, 300 Sandwiches, made her an Internet sensation. This is her first book.

RAISING THE PATRIARCHY: A Feminist Mother's Guide to Bringing Up Empathetic Boys
by Ruth Whippman

A deep dive into the complexities of raising boys—and how mothers can emotionally support and guide them to become better men.

Ruth Whippman, a lifelong feminist, was thrilled by the emergence of the #Metoo movement. But as a mother of three boys, she found herself frightened, conflicted, and surprisingly defensive. The sheer volume of evidence of terrible male behavior was impossible to deny, but she looked at her sons and found it hard to believe they could ever cause harm. These complex emotions, shared by so many mothers of boys, led Whippman to ask herself the question: How do we raise boys to be compassionate, responsible men in a world where toxic masculinity is still the norm?

Combining elements of memoir, the latest scientific research, popular culture, and reporting from the frontlines of contemporary American boyhood, RAISING THE PATRIARCHY is Ruth's deep-dive answer to that question. It turns out that boys need more parenting than girls, not less. She unpacks surprising and controversial truths about boys' socialization and the "undercare" of boys that can lead to a lack of relational skills and empathy. She uncovers how even the most well-meaning moms can inadvertently perpetuate damaging stereotypes and provides tools to foster emotional literacy in boys.

With humor, insight, and honesty, Ruth uses her experience as a mom and a journalist to explore strategies that support boys' mental health and help them construct a healthy relationship with masculinity.

Ruth Whippman is one of our most perceptive feminist voices. Her New York Times essay "Enough Leaning In, Now It's Time for Men to Lean Out" was shared 150,000 times on social media. Fortune Magazine described Whippman as one of "25 of the sharpest minds" of the decade (alongside Melinda Gates and Malala)." Her first book, AMERICA THE ANXIOUS, was a New York Times Editors' Choice and Paperback Row pick and a NY Post Best Book of the Year. The Sunday Times of London described Ruth Whippman as a "whip-sharp British Bill Bryson."

EVERYTHING IN BETWEEN
by Najwa Zebian

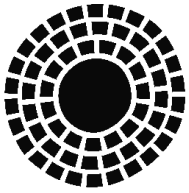

EVERYTHING IN BETWEEN will guide the reader through periods of change—both changes that you choose and those that you don't—with Najwa's trademark wisdom and clarity. It will offer reassurance to readers that it's okay to be a person-in-progress and give them tools to find happiness in their present situation while they find their way to their destination. In the style of WELCOME HOME (Harmony, 2021), Najwa will also share personal stories and offer clear, step-by-step practices.

Najwa Zebian is a Lebanese Canadian activist, author, speaker, and educator. The author of three collections of poetry, she delivered the TEDx talk "Finding Home Through Poetry" and recently launched a digital school, Soul Academy, and a podcast, Stories of the Soul. Her work has been featured in the New York Times, Glamour, Elle Canada, HuffPost, and more.

We also have another book with Zebian scheduled for June 2025 titled BOOK OF FORGIVENESS. It will combine poetry, workbook elements, self-help, and story to guide readers through how to forgive—both their selves and others.

LET MY PEOPLE GO: A Memoir by Michelle Alexander

Michelle Alexander was born in an America that wasn't ready for what her parents represented. Theirs was an interracial marriage that left them estranged from their families and excommunicated from their church. The Alexanders fled Chicago for the Illinois cornfields to build their own multiracial community—a commune fueled by spirituality and love. Instead, they found barriers at every turn, suffering through evictions and homelessness as they moved out West in pursuit of a better life for Michelle and her sister. Surely the American dream was just over the horizon.

Michelle saw a way out through higher education, but from the culture shock of pledging a white sorority at Vanderbilt to the checkbox diversity of Stanford Law School, she thrived academically despite shriveling away mentally and physically. She earned the honor of clerking at the Supreme Court, but her tenure was cut short by her father's untimely death at age fifty-two. Michelle joined a corporate firm to keep her family out of dire poverty.

After starting her own family, Michelle sought more fulfilling legal work, but she was let down by her peers, whose American dream included getting ahead at the expense of the voiceless. She was spiraling through anger and disillusionment until a pair of seemingly fated meetings—one with a wrongfully convicted man and another with legendary activist Vincent Harding, whose visionary guidance would help Michelle finally unburden her spirit.

By turns devastating and triumphant, but always soul-baring and profound, LET MY PEOPLE GO is an intimate look at Michelle Alexander's pursuit of meaning, and a testament to the power of defining success on our own terms. In her exquisite storytelling, Alexander shows us a spirit called to action, challenging each of us to advocate for each other and for ourselves—to find our own truth and set it free.

Michelle Alexander is a civil rights lawyer, advocate, and legal scholar, and the bestselling author of THE NEW JIM CROW: MASS INCARCERATION IN THE AGE OF COLORBLINDNESS, which helped to transform the national debate on racial and criminal justice. The book won numerous honors including an NAACP Image Award. Alexander has been featured in media outlets like MSNBC, NPR, CNN, The Colbert Show, Real Time w/Bill Maher, and Democracy Now!. She has taught at Stanford Law School and The Ohio State University's Moritz College of Law. Currently, she is a visiting professor at Union Theological Seminary.

CLAM DOWN

by Anelise Chen

Anelise Chen is one of the National Book Foundation's "5 Under 35" honorees for 2019, a list released annually during the foundation's run-up to the prestigious National Book Awards that recognizes debut that work promises to leave a lasting impression on the literary landscape." CLAM DOWN is an inventive and empathetic memoir of loss and transformation. It follows the author as she embarks on a quest toward self-illumination in the aftermath of a sudden divorce. Anelise becomes obsessed with mollusks and their adaptive strategies for survival. She investigates the lives of people who have "clammed down" in response to trauma, from Georgia O'Keeffe and Agnes Martin to members of her own family. She researches mollusks and hermit crabs in the natural world, and their struggle to survive in our increasingly toxic environment. Woven together, these stories of resilience create an intimate self-portrait of a woman who has outgrown simple survival and must finally learn how to emerge from her shell.

Anelise Chen is the author of SO MANY OLYMPIC EXERTIONS (Kaya Press, 2017). Her works have appeared in The New York Times, The Atlantic, NPR, BOMB Magazine, The New Republic, VICE, Village Voice and other publications. She has received fellowships from the Asian American Writers' Workshop and the Wurlitzer Foundation, and is a 2019 Literature Fellow at the Akademie Schloss Solitude in Stuttgart, Germany. She currently teaches writing at Columbia University and writes a column on mollusks for The Paris Review, from which CLAM DOWN is based on.

"Though the essays are about a particular period, Coates's themes reflect broader social and political phenomena. It's this timeless timeliness—reminiscent of the work of George Orwell and James Baldwin—that makes Coates worth reading again and again."—Publishers Weekly (starred review)

Praise for BETWEEN THE WORLD AND ME:

"I've been wondering who might fill the intellectual void that plagued me after James Baldwin died. Clearly it is Ta-Nehisi Coates. The language of Between the World and Me, like Coates's journey, is visceral, eloquent, and beautifully redemptive. And its examination of the hazards and hopes of black male life is as profound as it is revelatory. This is required reading."—Toni Morrison

The next nonfiction work from esteemed author Ta-Nehisi Coates.

Ta-Nehisi Coates is the author of THE BEAUTIFUL STRUGGLE, WE WERE EIGHT YEARS IN POWER, and BETWEEN THE WORLD AND ME, which won the National Book Award in 2015. He is the recipient of a MacArthur Fellowship. His debut novel, THE WATER DANCER, was a #1 New York Times bestseller and an Oprah's Book Club Pick.

THE BORDER SIMULATORby Gabriel Dozal

In Gabriel Dozal's debut collection, the U.S./Mexico border is redefined as a place of invention and crossing it becomes a matter of simulation. The poems accompany Primitivo, who attempts to cross the border, an imaginary boundary that becomes more real and challenging as his journey progresses, and his sister Primitiva, who lives an alternate, static life as an exploited migrant worker in la fabrica. With no way to escape the simulation, Primitivo and Primitiva must participate in it, scheming to win its favor. To win, you must be the best performer in the factory, the best imitation of a citizen, the best machine.

Featuring a bilingual format for English and Spanish readers, THE BORDER SIMULATOR explores physical and metaphysical borders, as well as the digital divide of our modern era. With inventive imagery, spirited wordplay, and thrilling movement, these energetic poems oscillate between the harrowing and the joyful, interrogating, innovating, and ultimately redefining binaries and divisions.

Gabriel Dozal is from El Paso, Texas. He received his MFA in poetry from the University of Arizona. His work appears in Poetry Magazine, Guernica, Bomb Magazine, The Iowa Review, The Brooklyn Rail, The Literary Review, Hunger Mountain, The Volta, Contra Viento, and more.

HOW I SURVIVED THE 18TH CENTURYby Azie Dungey

A lively, comic, and intellectually probing exploration of American history and historical memory, specifically the ways we remember and memorialize slavery and other elements of deep African American history. The work will be a personal narrative, structured around Azie Dungey's personal experiences as a slave reenactor, her travels to plantations, historical sites, and monuments, and the encounters she has with the people she meets along the way.

Azie Mira Dungey is an American actress, comedian and writer. She wrote and played the lead role in the comedic web series "Ask a Slave." Dungey is also currently a writer for the Netflix series Unbreakable Kimmy Schmidt, produced by Tina Fey and Robert Carlock, and co-executive producer of Peacock TV series Girls5Eva, starring Sara Bareilles, Busy Phillips, and Paula Pell.

MY LIFE IS MINE: A Memoir

by Tracee Ellis Ross

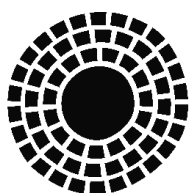

Frank, heartfelt, and hilarious, this unconventional memoir from the beloved actress and icon tells the parallel stories of a glamorously troubled coming of age and the eventual wisdom of womanhood.

At forty-five, Tracee Ellis Ross faced the question of whether she should freeze her eggs or not—but the question of to freeze or not to freeze was a proxy for a deeper reckoning: she was probably not going to have children, a husband, or a traditional home and family as she had always unconsciously imagined. In that moment, two doors opened. One led back to her past—she walked through to retrace her steps and see the forces that shaped her life choices with new clarity. And the other door pointed to a new future, one defined by four words: “My life is mine.”

This is Ross's story of looking back and forging ahead. Tracee Ellis Ross was born into Hollywood royalty, one of the five children of iconic entertainer Diana Ross. She grew up haunted by questions of identity and belonging, and her mother was a powerful, adored, and radiant presence, but often was at a heartbreaking distance. More often, Tracee was on her own, trying to figure out life in a series of darkly comic adventures in absurdly glamorous landscapes—whether enduring an awkward tweenhood among polished European aristocrats at a boarding school in the Swiss Alps or having misadventures with love, sex, and fashion as a teen in Paris, New York, and Beverly Hills. At every point—whether she was the gangly, frizzy-haired kid adrift and lonely or the young actor trying to forge a career, she wondered how she fit into the world around her. And at every stage, she accumulated answers, along with cautionary tales.

The questions didn't get easier as an adult. Ross takes us along her career and through a variety of fraught relationships with directors and photographers, romantic partners and her indomitable mother, as she keeps trying to find an identity that fits. Along the way she begins to gather more wisdom: from hard experience, from books that light up her mind, from movements for justice that draw her in, and from a community of women who hold each other up. In the end, she finds peace in her struggle, anchored by the idea that she has always been enough.

Tracee Ellis Ross is an American actress, singer, television host, producer and director. The daughter of Diana Ross, she is known for her lead roles in the television series Girlfriends and Black-ish. She owns Pattern Beauty, a hair-care line for curly hair.

WORD IS BOND

by Syreeta Gates

WORD IS BOND is a literary collection lovingly curated to be part archive and part cultural criticism. The essay collection affirms hip-hop as more than a music genre, but a culture that has permeated our lives. Combining riveting oral histories with Gates' unique observational perspective, the illustrated project shows the interplay between the work of early hip hop journalists and the artists they covered, and how these deep-rooted bonds continue to shape media and pop culture today. Releasing in time for the 50th Anniversary of hip-hop in 2023, WORD IS BOND will be a singular and necessary addition to the conversation about the genre's legacy and future.

Syreeta Gates is a hip-hop archivist, art collector, and founder of The Gates Preserve, a multimedia experience company that preserves and archives hip-hop. She is the producer of Yo Stay Hungry, a live culinary competition that bridges hip hop with food and beverage, and is the co-owner of Most Incredible Studio, which celebrates and commemorates the artists and moments that define hip hop culture. Her work has been featured in Forbes, Redbull, Black Enterprise, and many other outlets. Gates has a bachelor's degree from Hunter College and a master's degree from New York University. She lives in Queens, New York.

WE ARE NOT GODS: A Reckoning with Addiction and the Climate Crisis

by Rhiana Gunn-Wright

A bold and groundbreaking book that uses the author's experiences with addiction as a metaphor for the ways in which our society uses white supremacy to cope with and avoid facing the problems created by poisonous, and finite, fossil fuels—and the economic, political, and social systems built on their extraction and use. Gunn-Wright argues that our hunger for resources is at the root of our relentless inequality, and is the cause of the baffling amounts of pain we inflict on each other—and ourselves.

Rhiana Gunn-Wright is Director of Climate Policy at the Roosevelt Institute and one of the architects of the Green New Deal. A 2013 Rhodes Scholar, Gunn-Wright has also worked as the policy analyst for the Detroit Health Department, acted as the Mariam K. Chamberlain Fellow of Women and Public Policy at the Institute for Women's Policy Research, and served on the policy team for former First Lady Michelle Obama.

PURSUING JUSTICE

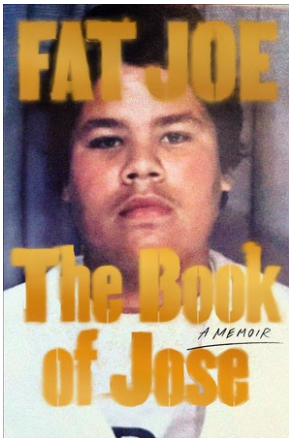

by Eric Holder with Douglas A. Blackmon

In this provocative memoir, Barack Obama's history-making attorney general and close confidant reveals the story of his life, from a childhood haunted by explosive family secrets to his years in the White House—with revelations about the war on terror, the financial crisis, and mass incarceration.

PURSUING JUSTICE takes us through Holder's own rich and fascinating life before he met Barack Obama, and gives us a dramatic inside look at the historic and controversial events that defined the Obama administration. Holder also addresses his own experiences on the ground and in the homes of grieving parents in places like Ferguson, Missouri, and his aggressive pursuit of civil rights cases and the battles to expand voting rights, LGBTQ rights, and the rights of undocumented immigrants. More than a rich and inspiring personal narrative or an inside account of a historic Administration, this is a thoughtful and provocative book that boldly dramatizes the history, limitations, and possibilities of American justice in our time.

Eric Holder served as the Attorney General of the United States from February 2009 to April 2015. He was the third-longest serving Attorney General in U.S. history and the first African American to hold that office. He has served in government for more than 30 years. The Holder Institute for Civil and Political Rights at Columbia University is dedicated to advancing Mr. Holder's legacy of meaningful engagement in the most pressing civil rights issues of this era.

Douglas A. Blackmon is the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of SLAVERY BY ANOTHER NAME: The Re-Enslavement of Black Americans from the Civil War to World War II (Doubleday 2008).

THE BOOK OF JOSE: A Memoir

by Fat Joe

Grammy-nominated, multi-platinum-selling artist Fat Joe pulls back the curtain on his larger-than-life persona in this gritty, intimate memoir about growing up in the South Bronx and finding his voice through music.

Fat Joe is a hip-hop legend, but this is not a story about celebrity. It's the story of Joseph Cartagena, a kid born in the South Bronx during its darkest years of drugs, violence, and abandonment, and how he navigated that traumatizing landscape until he found—through art, friendship, luck, and will—a path out.

Fat Joe, born Joseph Cartagena, is a rapper, actor, and entrepreneur from the Bronx, New York. He began his music career as a member of the hip-hop group Diggin' in the Crates Crew (D.I.T.C.). He released his first solo album, Represent, in 1993, and founded the record label Terror Squad, to which he signed top talent like Big Pun, Remy Ma, and DJ Khaled. Fat Joe is best known for his platinum-selling album Jealous Ones Still Envy (J.O.S.E.) and hits like "Lean Back," "What's Luv?" featuring Ashanti and Ja Rule, "Make It Rain" featuring Lil Wayne, and "All the Way Up" with Remy Ma, French Montana, and Dre.

SHE BAD: Tales of Love, Hate, and Baby Motherhood
By Jamilah Lemieux

SHE BAD: Tales of Love, Hate and Baby Motherhood is a poignant essay collection as a personal meditation on, an examination of, and a tribute to Black single motherhood. Through her signature candid, humorous and yet often biting takes, Lemieux suffers no fools while also courageously revealing the scars of her own parenting journey and search for self-acceptance in a world that doesn't see the full worth of women like her.

With a particular verve and relatability—honed, in part, from her many years among “Black Twitter’s” most prominent voices—Lemieux puts the lived reality of Black single motherhood: uncertainty, fierceness, and sensuality on full display. Interspersed with beautifully written personal narrative, readers will find cultural and historical analysis, and interviews with single mothers from all walks of life, telling it how it really is. SHE BAD is a bold testament to the multifaceted Black single mother and an invitation to all readers to finally recognize this powerful figure for who she is—not bad, but so, so good.

UNTITLED MEMOIRby Meek Mill

The platinum-selling recording artist and activist tells the dramatic story of his life—on the street and in the system—in a stunningly honest and meditative memoir that challenges everything you thought you knew about justice in America.

Meek Mill has lived two lives. One is the life of a platinum-selling recording artist. Meek has recorded with everyone from Mariah Carey to Jay-Z to Drake and his solo albums have opened at the top of the Billboard charts. He started from the bottom—his father was murdered in an attempted robbery when Meek was five; his mother hustled to get money to raise him and his sister - but climbing through the ranks of Philly's competitive world of battle rappers, Meek eventually found international fame.

The other life is as a young man who has spent the bulk of his life in America's broken criminal justice system. As a nineteen-year-old, Meek was convicted on controversial gun and drug charges, and from that point on lived in the world of incarceration, probation, and parole. For ten years after he completed his sentence, Meek's freedom was determined by one whimsical, possibly corrupt judge. But in 2019, Meek was released from prison and his initial case was reopened by Philadelphia's reform-minded DA, who recognized the irregularities in the original trial. Meek was finally free.

In this book, Meek will tell the story of his two lives. Not just as someone whose talent for words would make him a star, but as a kid who was always in the crosshairs of a system he didn't understand, where class and race converge to create a permanent criminal class in this country. It is both a gritty narrative of life in South Philly and the story of how art liberated one life, a handbook to the rules of the street that through his activism he's pushing to transform.

Robert Rihmeek Williams, known professionally as Meek Mill, is an American rapper, singer, songwriter, and activist. Born and raised in Philadelphia, he embarked on his music career as a battle rapper, and later formed a short-lived rap group, The Bloodhoundz.

THE LADY IMAM

by Carla Power

THE LADY IMAM is a riveting intersectional biography of Amina Wadud, the most famous Islamic woman theologian working today. A Black woman who grew up in a low income, Christian household in rural America, Wadud found personal agency through her access to education and took inspiration from the Civil Rights Movement to ultimately revitalize and reimagine her religion of choice, Islam, for contemporary practitioners. A fierce feminist, single mother of five, an advocate for and member of the LGBTQ+ community, and a respected scholar, Wadud has led a revolt against Islam's patriarchal establishment and has demonstrated faith's potential as an engine of liberation and social justice.

Carla Power is the author of IF THE OCEANS WERE INK, a finalist for both the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award, and HOME, LAND, SECURITY. She was raised in St. Louis, with years in Iran, India, Afghanistan, Egypt, and Italy. THE CROWD GOES WILD: How to Love Sports Without Losing Your Soul
by William C. Rhoden

From the New York Times bestselling author and award-winning sports columnist, a timely consideration of a debate that has unsettled millions of sports fans: In the age of performance-enhancing drugs, concussion scandals, increasing on- and off-the-field violence, and other controversies, is it possible to square our consciences with the sports we love? Is it possible to be an ethical sports fan?

William Rhoden has been covering these issues for thirty years as a columnist at the New York Times. In THE CROWD GOES WILD, he walks fans through them one by one, combining incisive analysis with rich storytelling and fresh reporting from his own investigations. In the end, he offers a thought-provoking and brutally honest assessment on how the games we love fit with the values we cherish — and whether the world of sports can still be redeemed.

William C. Rhoden is the author of FORTY MILLION DOLLAR SLAVES, and has been a sportswriter for the New York Times since 1983 and has written the "Sports of the Times" column since 1990. He also served as a consultant for ESPN's Sports Century series and is a regular guest on its show The Sports Reporters. In 1996 Rhoden won a Peabody Award for Broadcasting as writer of the HBO documentary Journey of the African-American Athlete. A graduate of Morgan State University in Baltimore, he lives in Harlem in New York City.

THE DAY UNRAVELS WHAT THE NIGHT HAS WOVEN

by Jordy Rosenberg

Author of the New York Times Editor's Choice CONFESSIONS OF THE FOX, Jordy Rosenberg's genre-bending memoir THE DAY UNRAVELS WHAT THE NIGHT HAS WOVEN offers a timely exploration of transgender sexuality, Jewish assimilation, and the author's difficult relationship with his mother—an accomplished bargain-hunter, committed homophobe, and dazzling old world yenta. Weaved throughout the memoir are fictional vignettes of the author's mother's life, as well as her imagined retellings of landmarks of leftist philosophy. A lyrical, poignant, and funny mediation on queerness, intergenerational conflict, and who gets to have an intellectual life.

Jordy Rosenberg is a transgender writer and scholar. He is author of CONFESSIONS OF THE FOX (One World, June 2018) and is an associate professor at the University of Massachusetts Amherst, where he teaches eighteenth-century literature and gender and sexuality studies. UNTITLED PERSONAL NARRATIVE ON THE HISTORY OF RACE AND JUSTICE

by Bryan Stevenson

A lively exploration of America's history with race and justice, through the author's personal lens. Bryan Stevenson is the author of the 2014 New York Times bestseller JUST MERCY, an extraordinary book that covered his career defending the most vulnerable in this country and his fight for equal justice in the legal system. JUST MERCY is now a major motion picture, with Michael B. Jordan playing the author, and co-starring Jamie Foxx, Brie Larson, and O'Shea Jackson Jr.

Bryan Stevenson is the Executive Director of the Equal Justice Initiative. Since graduating from Harvard Law School and the Harvard School of Government, he has secured relief for dozens of condemned prisoners, argued five times before the Supreme Court, and won national acclaim for his work challenging bias against the poor and people of color. He has won numerous awards, including the MacArthur Foundation "Genius" Grant. He is also on the faculty of New York University Law School.

THEY CALLED ME A LIONESS: A Palestinian Girl's Fight for Freedom

by Ahed Tamimi and Dena Takruri

A Palestinian activist jailed at sixteen after a confrontation with Israeli soldiers shines a light on the daily struggles of life under occupation in this moving, deeply personal memoir.

"What would you do if you grew up repeatedly seeing your home raided? Your parents arrested? Your mother shot? Your uncle killed? Try, if just for a moment, to imagine this was your life. How would you want the world to react?"

Ahed Tamimi's father was born in 1967, the year that the Israeli occupation of the West Bank began, and every aspect of their family's life has been touched by it. One of Ahed's earliest memories is visiting her father in prison, poking her three-year-old fingers through the fence to touch his hand. The ubiquitous security checkpoints and armed guards even found their way into her childhood fairytales and playdates. Her grandmother regaled her not with nursery rhymes, but with the sage of her family and its tragedies. Instead of cops and robbers, there was Jaysh o 'Arab, or "Army and Arabs," where children roleplayed as Israeli soldiers opposing a community of Palestinians.

She recounts all of this and more in her vivid and riveting memoir, one of the first to deal directly with what life in occupation actually means for the people in it, beyond geography or policy. It brings readers into the daily life of the young woman seen as a freedom-fighting hero by some and a naïve agitator by others. Beyond recounting her well-publicized interactions with Israeli soldiers, there is her unwavering commitment to family and her fearless command of her own voice, despite threats, intimidation, and even incarceration. An essential addition to a complicated conversation, THEY CALLED ME A LIONESS lets each of us see what is at stake for the people who live in the West Bank. With her honest, unflinching reflections of a lifelong struggle, Ahed Tamimi shines a light on the humanity not just in the pro-Palestine movement, but all political efforts that speak for the unsung.

Ahed Tamimi is a Palestinian student activist from the village of Nabi Salih in the West Bank.

A FEW DAYS FULL OF TROUBLE: Revelations on the Journey to Justice for My Cousin and Best Friend, Emmett Till

by Reverend Wheeler Parker, Jr. and Christopher Benson

What does justice mean in the resolution of a 66 year-old cold case? In A FEW DAYS OF TROUBLE, this question drives a new telling of the story of Emmett Till, relayed by his cousin and best friend—the Reverend Wheeler Parker, Jr., a survivor of the night of terror when 14-year-old Emmett was taken from his family’s rural Mississippi Delta home in the dead of night.

In a hypnotic interplay between uncovered facts and vivid recall, the last surviving eyewitness to the lynching of Emmett Till tells his story. Reverend Wheeler reveals an emotional and suspenseful narrative, set against a backdrop of reporting errors and manipulations, racial reckoning, and political pushback, alongside never-before-seen findings in the ongoing cold case investigation, A FEW DAYS OF TROUBLE is for readers looking to reconcile the weight of the past with a hope for the future.

Reverend Wheeler Parker, Jr. is pastor and district superintendent of the Argo Temple Church of God in Christ in Summit, Illinois, the church built by Alma Carthan, the grandmother of Emmett Till. A sought-after public speaker, Rev. Parker regularly holds lectures, gives interviews, and educates young people about the history of the struggle for equal justice in America. He recently celebrated his eightieth birthday and fifty years of marriage to the former Marvel McCain.

Christopher Benson, a lawyer and journalist, is an associate professor in the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern University. With the late Mamie Till-Mobley, he was co-author of the Pulitzer-nominated, Robert F. Kennedy Award-winning Death of Innocence: The Story of the Hate Crime That Changed America. He was Washington Editor of Ebony and has contributed to Chicago magazine, the Chicago Tribune, the Chicago Sun-Times, The New York Times, HuffPost, and The Chicago Reporter. He also was awarded two regional Emmys and a Peter Lisagor Award for exemplary journalism for his work as co-writer and associate producer of the WTTW (PBS) documentary Paper Trail: 100 Years of The Chicago Defender.

HOW TO KNOW A PERSON: The Art of Seeing Others Deeply and Being Deeply Seen by David Brooks

A heartfelt, enriching, and practical guide to the art of truly knowing another person deeply, from the #1 New York Times bestselling author of THE SECOND MOUNTAIN. As David Brooks observes in HOW TO KNOW A PERSON, “The older I get, the more I come to the certainty that there is one skill at the center of any healthy family, company, classroom, community or nation: the ability to see each other, to know other people, to make them feel valued, heard and understood.”

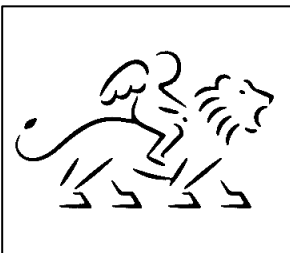

And yet we humans don’t do this well. In HOW TO KNOW A PERSON, Brooks sets out to help us to do this better, to be better. Driven by his trademark sense of curiosity, Brooks draws from the fields of psychology and neuroscience, and from the worlds of theatre, history, and education, to present a welcoming, integrated approach to human connection. HOW TO KNOW A PERSON will help readers become more understanding and considerate towards others. It will help readers find the joy that comes from being seen. Along the way it will offer a possible remedy for a society that is riven by fragmentation, hostility, and misperception.

How can we look somebody in the eye and see something large in them, and in turn, to see something larger in yourself? HOW TO KNOW A PERSON is for anyone searching for connection, seeking to understand and to be understood.

David Brooks is one of the nation’s leading writers and commentators. He is an op-ed columnist for The New York Times and appears regularly on PBS NewsHour and Meet the Press. He is the bestselling author of THE SECOND MOUNTAIN, THE ROAD TO CHARACTER, THE SOCIAL ANIMAL, BOBOS IN PARADISE; and ON PARADISE DRIVE.

His next book is scheduled for March 2025.

January 2023BEAUTIFUL AND TERRIBLE THINGS: *Reflections on Faith, Vocation, and Finding Your Way in the Worldby Amy Butler

From the first female senior minister at New York's historic Riverside Church, a deeply personal memoir about the nature of faith, the inevitability of doubt, and the importance of radical love in facing all the beautiful and terrible things that happen in our lives.

In BEAUTIFUL AND TERRIBLE THINGS, Amy Butler tells her story of how she, as a young, single, and divorced Baptist mother of three came to find herself leading from one of the most prominent pulpits in America. Pastor Amy grew up in a conservative Evangelical family in the diverse culture of the Hawaiian Islands. As she realized she was more inclined to be a pastor than to marry one, she began an unlikely journey, breaking one stained-glass ceiling after another—first in seminary, then in increasingly high-profile ministry positions in New Orleans, Washington, DC, and New York. Along the way, she weathered rigidly unwelcoming congregations and enormous trials: church conflict, the death of a child, an unexpected divorce. Despite it all, her experiences of radical love and healing empowered Amy to lead others through the brightest and darkest moments of their lives. Inspiring, candid, funny, and achingly true, Amy's literary reflections sketch her path through the thickets of doubt and despair to a durable, profound, and beautiful faith of her own.

Rev. Dr. Amy Butler is senior minister of The Riverside Church in New York City and leads the National City Christian Church in Washington DC as interim Senior Minister. She previously served as senior pastor of Calvary Baptist Church in Washington, D.C. and associate pastor at St. Charles Avenue Baptist Church in New Orleans. Pastor Amy holds degrees from Baylor University, the International Baptist Theological Seminary, and Wesley Theological Seminary. In addition to her Riverside sermons and blog posts at "Talk With the Preacher," she writes a biweekly column for the Associated Baptist Press.

September 2024UNTITLED*by Jerrod Carmichael

A boundary-breaking young black comedian's new take on JFK's PROFILES IN COURAGE with ten portraits—all giants of the last 50 years of American culture—that have added an edge to the American identity, for better or (far) worse.

Jerrod Carmichael's career has been fueled by his charming presence combined with a nihilistic, dark, but remarkably thoughtful sense of humor. He's known to take jokes about some of the toughest topics further than most would dare with a style that reveals as much about his audience as it does about how his mind works. These profiles have the same draw of that inviting voice and shocking edge. He profiles Michael Jackson, The Rock, OJ Simpson, Jay-Z, Hurricane Katrina, Bill Cosby, Elon Musk, Quentin Tarantino, Norman Lear, Eddie Murphy, and Malcolm X. Along the way, he relates hilarious personal stories and even delves into thorny conspiracy theories, earnestly investigating both sides to show what they reveal about the people who believe them (himself included). Carmichael, like his best jokes, hold an unforgiving mirror up to the society.

Jerrod Carmichael was the creator, writer, producer, and star of three seasons of his semi-autobiographical sitcom, The Carmichael Show on NBC, which was known for its fearlessness in approaching issues of race and identity in America. After moving to LA from his native North Carolina in 2008, his meteoric rise has also already included three HBO comedy specials, Love at the Store, 8, and Home Videos, as well as appearances alongside Zac Efron and Seth Rogen in Neighbors and Neighbors 2. He directed and produced the upcoming film On the Count of Three, which he will also star in alongside Christopher Abbott and Tiffany Haddish. In 2022, he won an Emmy for Outstanding Writing for a Variety Special for his special, Rothaniel.

FIELDS OF FIRE AND FURYby Zachary D. Carter

A sweeping, panoramic history of the origins, failures, and legacy of American populism, revealing it as a force perpetually simmering in American politics that boils over at moments of upheaval, told through the rise and fall of Georgia politician Tom Watson, the firebrand founder of the Populist Party who began his career with a vision of a broad, multi-racial coalition only to end his life as a demagogue.

Zachary D. Carter is the author of THE PRICE OF PEACE (May 2020). He is a senior reporter at HuffPost, where he covers Congress, the White House, and economic policy. He is a frequent guest on cable news and news radio, and his written work has also appeared in The New Republic, The Nation, and The American Prospect, among other outlets. His story, "Swiped: Banks, Merchants and Why Washington Doesn't Work for You" was included in the Columbia Journalism Review's compilation Best Business Writing. He lives in Brooklyn, New York.

THE TEN brings Mona Chalabi's sharp eye for data and her fantastic visuals to a narrative analysis of class in America. Chalabi takes readers through the lives of a person or family in each of the ten deciles of income, from those making between nothing and $5k a year to those making well above $180k, drilling into both the stories and the raw numbers to give a granular understanding of how money and class work today. The smart, self-aware, and attuned writing highlights the nuances of how even small differences in income can create friction and impose seen and unseen hierarchies in every aspect of our lives, and her accompanying illustrations make for an illuminating and engaging read.

Mona Chalabi is a data journalist, writer and illustrator who has seen a huge boost in her platform in recent months due to her viral Instagram illustrations of COVID- and BLM-related data. Even before that, she's had a great reputation—she's been at 538 and the Guardian, co-created the Emmy Award-nominated docu-series Vagina Dispatches, hosted a VICE talk show on finance, and was one of Fortune magazine's 40 under 40 this year. Her work has appeared in The New Yorker, The New York Times, The New York Review of Books, New York Magazine, The Guardian and many more. As an illustrator, her work has been exhibited at several galleries including the Tate, The Design Museum and the House of Illustration. EGYPTIAN MADEby Leslie T. Chang

EGYPTIAN MADE will tell the rich, deeply personal stories of Egypt's working women by examining two enterprises: A female-owned-and-operated clothing manufacturer in an industrial zone outside Alexandria; and the Israeli-owned Delta Textile Factory, based in the Upper Egypt city of Minya, which employs more than six hundred women to sew men's underwear and tee-shirts. Through meticulous reporting, Chang will explore why one of the most progressive countries in the region has one of the lowest rates of female labor participation in the world and will take readers inside the emotions, dreams, and disappointments of ordinary women in the Middle East, tracing the trajectory of their lives over time.

Leslie T. Chang is the author of FACTORY GIRLS: From Village to City in a Changing China (2009), and a former correspondent for the Wall Street Journal. A graduate of Harvard University with a degree in American History and Literature, Chang has worked as a journalist in the Czech Republic, Hong Kong, and Taiwan, and written for The New Yorker, National Geographic, and Condé Nast Traveler. UNTITLED CHU MEMOIR

by Jon Chu and Jeremy McCarter

Long before the groundbreaking film Crazy Rich Asians was setting box-office records, director Jon Chu was a movie-obsessed first-generation Chinese American, helping at his parents' restaurant and forever facing the cultural identity crisis endemic to people of color in the United States. When Chu graduated from USC film school, he struggled to establish himself, failing repeatedly and questioning whether his endeavor was worth it, until his hard work finally paid off. In his book, for the first time, Chu dives deep into this period of his life, questioning what it means when your dreams clash up against the reality of your circumstances and showing how it's possible to succeed despite the odds.

With striking candor and openness, Chu's memoir interweaves themes of personal reflection, creativity, and the immigrant experience to create a powerful argument for believing in yourself regardless of the expectations and opinions of others. Ultimately, it's a book about making movies, accepting your identity, and the pursuit of creativity and your art form. "You don't need the permission of powerful people to make the work you want to see; you don't need vast resources to catch the world's eye," Chu writes. "You need an original vision, the conviction that your story is worth telling, and co-conspirators who are every bit as hungry as you are to share something new with the world. Then you get the car keys."

Jon Chu is an American film director, producer, and screenwriter. He is the director of the big screen adaptations Crazy Rich Asians and Quiara Alegría Hudes and Lin Manuel Miranda's In the Heights. He executive produced the Apple TV Plus series, Home Before Dark, and directed several episodes. Chu has now been tapped to direct Wicked.

BETTER LIVING THROUGH BIRDING

by Christian Cooper

A memoir by long-time birder and social activist, Christian Cooper.

Reflecting on a life lived at the intersections of race and queerness, of what Cooper describes as “nerdiness and birdiness,” BETTER LIVING THROUGH BIRDING explores the lifetime of experience that prepared Cooper for his now-infamous encounter with racist White aggression in Central Park, on the very day that the police killing of George Floyd in Minneapolis sent the country over the edge, spurring protests in the streets and inspiring calls for change—calls that echoed all around the world. Equal parts memoir, travelogue, and call to action, this memoir weaves together the strands of one man’s remarkable life during a fateful moment in the history. Cooper tells story of learning to claim and defend space for himself and others like him, through and alongside the life of birds and what they can teach us if only we would learn to stop, and really listen.

From his days as a writer for Marvel Comics, where Cooper was a pioneer for the LGBTQ community and embraced the Blerd (black nerd) within him, to life-changing expeditions through Africa, Australia, and the Himalayas, BETTER LIVING THROUGH BIRDING exults in the pleasures of a life lived in pursuit of the natural world, amid the stark realities of a life lived as a Black man in America today.

Christian Cooper is an American science writer, comics writer, and editor. Cooper was Marvel's first openly gay writer and editor and introduced the first gay male character in Star Trek, Yoshi Mishima, in the Starfleet Academy series, which was nominated for a GLAAD Media Award in 1999. He also introduced the first openly lesbian character for Marvel, Victoria Montesi, and created and authored QUEER NATION: The Online Gay Comic. Based in New York City, he is currently on the Board of Directors for NYC Audubon.

I REGRET I’LL BE ABLE TO ATTEND

by Jessica Craig-Martin

An irresistibly juicy memoir by the photographer-cum-chronicler of New York City’s elite, Jessica Craig-Martin, who for over 15 years has chronicled New York City’s beau monde society gatherings in images that reveal the darkness and discomfort behind the glamorous façade.

As it turns out, Jessica’s visual talent for observing and documenting human behavior and society is matched equally by her talents as a writer. In her memoir, she turns the lens on herself, and recounts a latchkey bohemian childhood in the 1970s as the precocious offspring of two free spirited artists between London and New York’s SoHo (before it was SoHo). Her account is both a vivid social and cultural history of ‘70s and ‘80s bohemia as well as a touching story of a clever but self-doubting young woman trying to find her place in the world. From selling seafood to Jean Michel Basquiat, to working for Anna Wintour as an assistant at British Vogue, Jessica recreates an era of innocence and debauchery in a tone that is both nostalgic and jaundiced, barbed but always deeply human.

Jessica Craig-Martin’s work is in the permanent collections of The Guggenheim, The Whitney, The New Museum, and The Saatchi Collection, among many others. Her visual reportage and fashion stories have been featured in Vanity Fair, The New York Times Magazine, Harper’s Bazaar, and Vogue, among many others.

IMAGINARY BRIGHTNESS: An Autobiography of American Guilt
by Sierra Crane Murdoch

IMAGINARY BRIGHTNESS follows the ways Sierra has observed white guilt during her reporting and living in the American West. Tracing her own path as a reporter, the book integrates stories she gathered over years into a meta-journalistic study blending memoir, field reporting, historical research, and cultural criticism. Guiding the book's narrative is this question: What do we do when we realize the stories we believed in were never true?

Sierra Crane Murdoch is a journalist, essayist, and author based in the American West. Her first book, YELLOW BIRD, was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize, was named one of the best books of 2020 by The New York Times, NPR, and Publisher's Weekly, was nominated for the Edgar Award, won an Oregon Book Award, and is being developed as a TV series. She has written for Harper's, This American Life, The Atlantic, The New Yorker online, VQR, and High Country News. She has held fellowships from Middlebury College and from the Investigative Reporting Program at the University of California, Berkeley. She lives in Oregon.

by Veena Dinavahi

Veena Dinavahi's ERASED, an unflinching, darkly witty memoir about a young Indian American woman whose dreams of being a well-adjusted college student get derailed when her struggles with mental health land her in the office of a charismatic doctor with a devoted following. As she's drawn into his world—and the intensely close-knit community around him—she finds herself paying a higher price for happiness than she could've ever expected.

ERASED is a brilliantly original look at reclaiming your culture, reckoning with mental illness, and learning to trust your intuition in a world determined to annihilate it.

Veena Dinavahi is an Indian American writer currently raising three children in the woods of Connecticut.

SOME PEOPLE NEED KILLING: A Memoir of a Dying Democracyby Patricia Evangelista

A powerful and visceral exposé about the current situation in the Philippines and what life is like there for people under the rule of the autocrat, President Duterte, often known as The Punisher. Evangelista has reported there for over a decade and as she says, it doesn't leave much room for optimism. SOME PEOPLE NEED KILLING will be built around a series of stories informed by the history of the Philippines and the policies handed down by the President. Evangelista will bind these stories together by her own narrative as a reporter discovering how lightly liberal ideals are rooted in her people.

Patricia Evangelista is a Manila-born and based trauma journalist specializing in disaster, conflict and development issues. She has covered journalist killings, the disappearances and torture of activists, and the long national campaign for the legislation of reproductive rights. Her reporting on armed conflict as well as the aftermath of Typhoon Haiyan was awarded the Agence France-Presse Kate Webb Prize for exceptional journalism in dangerous conditions. Her longform narrative series Impunity, an investigation of President Rodrigo Duterte's drug war for the online news agency Rappler, was a recipient of the Human Rights Press Award, a Society of Publishers in Asia Award, and is a finalist for the Osborn Elliott Prize for Journalism.

NERO: Matricide, Music, and Murder in Imperial Rome

by Anthony Everitt and Roddy Ashworth

A striking, nuanced portrait of Nero—the populist ruler, last of the Caesars, and ancient Rome's most controversial emperor—from acclaimed biographer and historian Anthony Everitt.

Everyone knows the Roman emperor Nero: he was labelled cruel, vain, sexually voracious; he committed matricide; he set fire to his own capital. Yet strangely this monster was also loved. Through a close examination of Nero's life, and the society and culture into which he was born, Anthony Everitt reveals an emperor of deep contradictions: one who did some truly terrible things during his rule but who also secured notable diplomatic triumphs; a ruler who was also a devoted champion of arts and culture, especially music, and who was riddled throughout his life by a deep unease and sense of guilt. Nero's rule is known for cruelty, decadence, and despotism, but in Anthony Everitt's hands, his life becomes a cautionary tale about the mettle it takes to rule.

Anthony Everitt, a former visiting professor in the visual and performing arts at Nottingham Trent University, has written extensively on European culture and is the author of CICERO (2002), AUGUSTUS (2006), HADRIAN AND THE TRIUMPH OF ROME (2009), THE RISE OF ROME (2012), THE RISE OF ATHENS (2016), and ALEXANDER THE GREAT (2019). He has served as secretary general of the Arts Council for Great Britain. Everitt lives near England's first recorded town, Colchester, which was founded by the Romans.

TAMING THE STREET: *The Old Guard, The New Deal, and the Battle for the Soul of the American Marketby Diana B. Henriques

The dramatic story of this unprecedented fight to save the soul of American capitalism and the battle to regulate Wall Street is the heart of this book by New York Times bestselling award-winning financial journalist Diana B. Henriques.

Henriques begins with the stock market crash of 1929 that brought Wall Street to its knees, and the key figures that shaped the events and decisions afterward that irrevocably shaped the current financial landscape. TAMING THE STREET features a larger-than-life cast of historical figures, including then-Governor and later-President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who took center stage as the man who made the case for regulating the cutthroat world of Wall Street, which culminated in the passage of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, thereby allowing for the creation of the Securities and Exchange Commission; future Associate Justice to the Supreme Court William O. Douglas; Richard Whitney (aka “The Prince of Wall Street” and avid defender of the old guard), vice president of the New York Stock Exchange; even a young and opportunistic Joseph Kennedy.

While the SEC’s importance has diminished, Henriques argues that the story behind its creation is a hopeful one, one that provides an inspiring example about what an enlightened government once did, and could do again, to level the playing field for the American dream.

Diana Henriques is the author of A FIRST-CLASS CATASTROPHE: The Road to Black Monday, the Worst Day in Wall Street History (Holt, 2017), THE WIZARD OF LIES: Bernie Madoff and the Death of Trust (Times Books, 2011), and three other books on business history. She was a staff writer for the New York Times from 1989 to 2012 and has been a contributing writer since then. She was a Pulitzer finalist in 2005 and recipient of the George Polk Award, Harvard’s Goldsmith Prize for Investigative Reporting and the Worth Bingham Prize.

BLACK WOMEN TAUGHT USby Jenn M. Jackson

From a fearless new voice in Black feminism, political theorist and Teen Vogue columnist Jenn M. Jackson's all-new collection of linked essays reclaims the work and words of Black women who have long fought for liberation and justice.

Through their popular "Speak On it" column for Teen Vogue, Jenn M. Jackson has been known to bring trenchant feminist analysis and deep historical acuity to some of the most controversial topics in America today. In BLACK WOMEN TAUGHT US, Jackson brings their critical powers to bear on the questions that have long energized their work: why have Black women been so overlooked throughout history, and what has our society lost in the meantime? A love letter to those who have been minimized and forgotten, this book repositions Black women's intellectual and political work at the center of today's liberation movements.

Across twelve essays that explore the legacy and work of Black women writers and leaders—from Harriet Jacobs and Ida B. Wells to the Combahee River Collective and Audre Lorde—Jackson sets the record straight about Black women's longtime movement organizing, theorizing, and coalition building. This is a powerful reclamation of an essential history, and a hopeful gesture towards a better political future, this is what listening to Black women looks like.

Jenn Jackson is an award-winning professor of Political Science at Syracuse University and a columnist for Teen Vogue, where they write the popular "Speak On It" column that "explores how today's social and political life is influenced by generations of racial and gender (dis)order." A queer genderflux androgynous Black woman, Jackson primary research is in Black Politics with a focus on group threat, gender and sexuality, political behavior, and social movements. This is their first book.

THE LOOM OF TIMEby Robert D. Kaplan

This next work from acclaimed author Robert Kaplan will be a history and travelogue through the "Greater Middle East," the area between Greece and China. Kaplan argues that the ongoing search for order—a humane form of governance between anarchy and tyranny—defines this broad swath of territory with a history of being ruled by successive empires. That search will set the course of international events for the next decade, especially as China extends its Belt and Road initiative, adding its own considerable influence to the region.

Robert D. Kaplan is a senior advisor at the Eurasia Group, a senior fellow at the Center for New American Security, and a contributing editor at The Atlantic. He has previously served as chief geopolitical analyst at Stratfor, a visiting professor at the U.S. Naval Academy, and as a member of the Pentagon's Defense Policy Board. In 2011 and 2012, Foreign Policy named Kaplan among the world's "100 Top Global Thinkers." He is the author of numerous books on foreign affairs and travel translated into many languages, among them THE REVENGE OF GEOGRAPHY, EARNING THE ROCKIES, and THE RETURN OF MARCO POLO'S WORLD, and ADRIATIC (2012, 2017, 2018, and 2022 respectively).

AN EDUCATION IN THE WORLD

by Dr. Jim Yong Kim

Former President of the World Bank Group, renowned physician, and anthropologist Dr. Jim Yong Kim was the first World Bank leader without a professional background in the political or financial sectors. Drawing on his personal experience tackling health issues in developing countries—during which Kim watched movements and systems of government fail to establish social structures that embody their grandest ambitions—AN EDUCATION IN THE WORLD uses Kim's life story as a platform for discussing his goals to end extreme poverty and curtail global income inequality. It's a tall order for a Korean-American kid, raised first in Seoul, then in Dallas, Texas and finally in Muscatine, Iowa.

Dr. Jim Yong Kim was the 12th President of the World Bank Group before stepping down in February 2019 and is currently a partner at Global Infrastructure Partners. A global health leader, he was formerly the chair of the Department of Global Health and Social Medicine at Harvard Medical School and cofounder and executive director of Partners in Health before serving as the President of Dartmouth College from 2009-2012. Peanut allergies. Hay fever. Gluten intolerance. Eczema. Either you have a frustrating allergy, or you know someone who does. Over the last decade, the number of adults and children diagnosed with mild, moderate, or severe allergies has been steadily increasing. Billions of people worldwide, an estimated 30-40 percent of the general global population, currently have some form of allergy; millions have one severe enough to actively endanger their health. It's clear that we are becoming ever more sensitive to the panoply of natural and manmade chemicals and allergens we interact with daily. Theresa MacPhail set out to find out why in this book, a holistic examination of the phenomenon of allergies from its first medical description in 1819 to the mind-bending recent development of biologics for its treatment and immunotherapies for its prevention.

From an air quality controller, diligently counting pollen by hand for hours every day to a mother struggling to use WIC benefits for her daughter with severe food allergies, this is the story of allergies in the 21st century: what they are, why we have them, and what that might mean about the fate of humanity in a rapidly changing world. Because understanding what is irritating us and why will help us to craft better environments in the future – ones in which we can all breathe easier.

YOUR BRAIN ON ART: How the Arts Transform Us by Susan Magsamen and Ivy Ross

A mind-blowing exploration of the new science of neuroaesthetics—what happens in our brains and bodies when we interact with art—and how an understanding of these processes can help us dramatically improve our mental health, communities, and ourselves.

Have you ever gotten chills while listening to a particularly gorgeous piece of music? Or felt a sense of calm while gazing at a painting of a serene landscape? We have experiences like those every day, but rarely stop to consider what's happening internally to cause them.

In YOUR BRAIN ON ART, founder of the International Arts + Mind Lab at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine Susan Magsamen and Google designer Ivy Ross explain how, by understanding how we biologically react to aesthetic experiences, we can not only heal as individuals but thrive as communities. Using the new science of neuroaesthetics, which explores our physiological reactions to art, Magsamen and Ross show us how, for instance, gardening can help a person heal from trauma or listening to a major fifth interval can snap the body out of a fight-or-flight response.

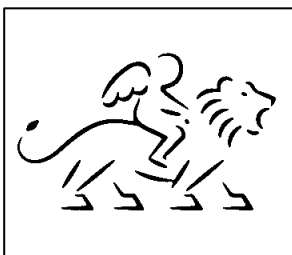

Beyond enjoyment and abstraction, art can change the way we operate on a daily, practical level. And, in addition to helping each of us heal from stress, anxiety, burnout, and other malaises of modern life, neuroaesthetics can effect major change in society writ large, whether through public art murals in high-crime areas or music and dance therapy for patients experiencing neurodegenerative disorders.

Both a journey of discovery and an authoritative guide to the new science of aesthetics, YOUR BRAIN ON ART is a vibrant tapestry weaving together breakthrough research, insights from multidisciplinary pioneers, and compelling stories from people who are using the arts to enhance physical and mental well-being.

Susan Magsamen is the founder and director of the International Arts + Mind Lab Center for Applied Neuroaesthetics at the Brain Science Institute of the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine where she is a faculty member in the department of neurology. She has worked in both the public and private sectors on projects addressing early childhood development, physical and mental health, playful learning, workforce innovation, family engagement, aging, creativity, social justice, and under-resourced communities through the lens of the arts.

Ivy Ross is the vice president of hardware design at Google. Drawing on her background in wide-ranging fields including sound therapy, quantum physics, psychology, and play, Ivy leads a team that has won more than 140 design awards. Insider recently named her one of the 15 Most Powerful Women at Google.

AND THERE WAS LIGHT: Abraham Lincoln and the American Struggle by Jon Meacham

Pulitzer Prize-winning biographer and #1 New York Times best-selling author Jon Meacham chronicles the life and moral evolution of Abraham Lincoln and explores why and how Lincoln confronted secession, threats to democracy, and the tragedy of slavery to expand the possibilities of America.

A president who governed a divided country has much to teach us in a twenty-first-century moment of polarization and political crisis. This illuminating new portrait gives us a very human Lincoln—an imperfect man whose moral antislavery commitment was essential to the story of justice in America. In a nation shaped by the courage of the enslaved of the era and by the brave witness of Black Americans of the nineteenth century, Lincoln's story illuminates the ways and means of politics, the marshaling of power in a belligerent democracy, the durability of white supremacy in America, and the capacity of conscience to shape the maelstrom of events.

Jon Meacham is a Pulitzer Prize-winning and New York Times bestselling biographer. LIFE'S WORK: A Memoir

by David Milch

The creator of DEADWOOD and NYPD BLUE reflects on his unlikely life, driven by a nearly insatiable creative energy and a twin penchant for self-destruction—LIFE'S WORK is a profound, literary memoir from a brilliant mind taking stock as Alzheimer's loosens his hold on his own past.

From the start, Milch's life seems destined to echo that of his father, a successful if drug-addicted surgeon. Almost every achievement is accompanied by an act of self-immolation, but the deepest sadnesses also contain moments of grace.

Betting on racehorses and stealing booze at eight years old, mentored by Robert Penn Warren and excoriated by Richard Yates at twenty-one, Milch never did anything halfway. He got into Yale Law only to be expelled for shooting out streetlights with a shotgun. He paused his studies at the Iowa Writers' Workshop to manufacture acid in Cuernavaca. He created and wrote some of the biggest, most lauded television series of all time, made a family and pursued sobriety, and then lost his fortune betting horses, just as his father had taught him.

Like Milch's best screenwriting, LIFE'S WORK explores how chance encounters, self-deception, and luck shape the people we become, and wrestles with what it means to have felt and caused pain, even and especially with those we love, and how you keep living. It is both a masterclass on Milch's unique creative process, and a distinctive, revelatory memoir from one of the great American writers, in what may be his final dispatch to us all.

David Milch graduated summa cum laude from Yale University, where he won the Tinker Prize. He earned an MFA from the Iowa Writers' Workshop at the University of Iowa. He worked as a writing teacher and lecturer in English literature at Yale. During his teaching career, he assisted Robert Penn Warren and Cleanth Brooks in the writing of several college textbooks on literature. His poetry and fiction have been published in The Atlantic and Southern Review. Among many other credits, Milch created and wrote the shows NYPD BLUE, JOHN FROM CINCINNATI, LUCK, and DEADWOOD.

THE MYTH OF MAKING IT: On Girlbosses, Blind Hires, and Diversity in the Workplace
by Samhita Mukhopadhyay

A frank, forward-thinking examination of workplace culture that moves beyond "girlboss" and "lean in" feminism to identify the real barriers to equity—from the former executive editor of Teen Vogue.

Shattering the myth of meritocracy and the fictions we tell about workplace equity and inclusion, Samhita Mukhopadhyay draws upon her own professional experiences supplemented by analysis from experts, anecdotes from colleagues, and the views of activists to explore our cultural beliefs and myths surrounding the workplace. By engaging with these opinions, analysis, and anecdotes a full view of the workplace emerges from managers and supervisors to entry and mid-level employees. Mukhopadhyay offers possibilities for understanding and growth for a wide range of readers beyond their professional station.

Advocating for a feminist and anti-racist future of work, Mukhopadhyay discusses how the pandemic pushed the workforce over the brink as long-held frustrations—about work-life balance, pay inequality, microaggressions, and fulfillment—finally boiled over. THE MYTH OF MAKING IT examines the complexities of past and ongoing workplace reckonings while arguing the merits of challenging hustle culture to release ourselves from cycles of abuse. Mukhopadhyay explores everything from the oft-idealized image of the "girl boss" to the very myth of "making it" itself.

THE MYTH OF MAKING IT is reported from the front lines, with a masterful blend of memoir and reportage to provide a much-needed reckoning of American patriarchal work culture while offering a concrete and inclusive vision for the present and future.

Samhita Mukhopadhyay is an American writer and the executive editor of Teen Vogue. She writes about feminism, culture, race, politics, and dating. She is the author of OUTDATED: Why Dating is Ruining Your Love Life and the co-editor of the anthology, NASTY WOMEN: Feminism, Resistance, and Revolution in Trump's America.

UNTITLED NONFICTION
by Sonia Nazario

Sonia Nazario, former projects reporter for the Los Angeles Times, has spent more than two decades reporting and writing about social issues. Her stories have tackled some of this country's most intractable problems: hunger, drug addiction, immigration. Her latest work will be an intimate portrait of five American women as they deal with major social issues, including poverty, hunger, prison reform, and gang violence. Each woman's daunting struggle ultimately leads to triumph, and through their stories, Nazario highlights concrete solutions to some of society's most intractable problems.

Sonia Nazario is the author of the national bestseller ENRIQUE'S JOURNEY (2006), which was based on a 2003 story she wrote about a Honduran boy's struggle to find his mother in the US. It garnered more than a dozen awards, among them the Pulitzer Prize for feature writing, the George Polk Award for International Reporting, the Grand Prize of the Robert F. Kennedy Journalism Award, and the National Association of Hispanic Journalists Guillermo Martinez-Marquez Award for Overall Excellence. She gave a TED Talk in 2017 called "Solving Immigration [For Real]," and more information about her immigration-related work can be found at www.enriquesjourney.com.

Award-winning journalist Vann Newkirk weaves together the stories of three of the earliest free black American towns and their pioneering inhabitants, who, imperiled both by climate change and more than a century of white supremacist policy, face a man-made environmental disaster on the scale of the 1930s Dust Bowl.

Vann Newkirk II is an 11th Hour Fellow and staff writer for The Atlantic where he covers civil rights, environmental justice, and politics. He has covered the battles for voting rights since the 2013 Shelby County Supreme Court decision, the fate of communities on the front lines of climate change and disasters, and the black vote in the 2018 and 2020 elections. Newkirk received his bachelor's degree from Morehouse College and a master's degree from UNC-Chapel Hill.

October 2023AMERICAN MADNESS*by Amy Ellis Nutt

Amy Ellis Nutt traces the history of mental health treatment in the United States, adopting a similar approach to what Siddhartha Mukherjee did so well for cancer in THE EMPEROR OF ALL MALADIES. By bringing to life the discoveries, characters, and trends of the past two centuries, with an emphasis on the past 60 years and the advent of psychiatric drugs, Nutt shows that despite our increased knowledge about the brain, we still don't know what causes mental illness. What we think of as "progress" in mental health treatment has largely been the result of accidents of history, money, cultural moments and outsized personalities. Nutt argues against an overreliance on medication and advocates an emphasis on community, psychotherapy, and mindfulness.

Amy Ellis Nutt is an expert when it comes to this story: mental health and brain science is her beat at The Washington Post. She won the Pulitzer Prize in Feature Writing in 2011 and is the author of BECOMING NICOLE (2015), and co-author of the New York Times bestseller THE TEENAGE BRAIN EXPLAINED (Harper, 2015). She was a Niemen Fellow in Journalism at Harvard and Ferris Professor of Journalism at Princeton, and an instructor at the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism.

EMPRESS OF THE NILE: The Daredevil Archaeologist Who Saved Egypt's Ancient Temples from Destruction

by Lynne Olson

The fascinating story of the intrepid French archaeologist who led the international effort to save ancient Egyptian temples from being forever lost in the floodwaters of the newly constructed Aswan Dam, from the New York Times bestselling author of MADAME FOURCADE'S SECRET WAR.

Christiane Desroches Noblecourt, was a Frenchwoman who was fascinated by Ancient Egypt from a young age. A willful, real-life version of Indiana Jones, Desroches-Noblecourt refused to be cowed by anyone or anything. Having broken glass ceilings by studying and later working at the Louvre, during WWII she helped save the museum's treasures, and as a brave member of the French Resistance in WWII she had survived imprisonment by the Nazis.

Her crowning achievement, however, was her success in Egypt, where she was the first woman to lead an archeological dig. She saved twenty-four of the country's most important temples (the Metropolitan Museum's Temple of Dendur being one of them) by relocating them, stone by ancient stone, before they were submerged forever during the building of the Aswan Dam. Like Olson's bestselling MADAME FOURCADE'S SECRET WAR, EMPRESS OF THE NILE tells the dramatic story of a woman whose bravery and determination make inspiring and exciting reading.

Lynne Olson is the New York Times bestselling author of LAST HOPE ISLAND, THOSE ANGRY DAYS, and CITIZENS OF LONDON. Among her other books is TROUBLESOME YOUNG MEN. She lives with her husband in Washington, D.C.

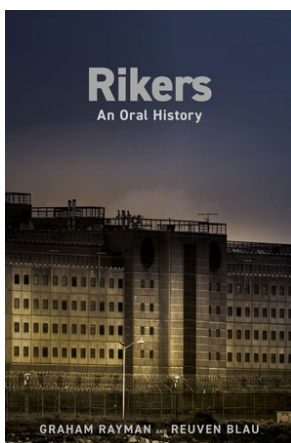

GRAPHIC DEAD MAN WALKING (Graphic Novel)by Sister Helen Prejean; Illustrated by Catherine Anyango Grünewald

A graphic adaptation of the gut-wrenching story that inspired a film, a stage play, an opera, and a musical album. In 1982, Sister Helen Prejean became the spiritual advisor to Patrick Sonnier, the convicted killer of two teenagers who was sentenced to die in the electric chair of Louisiana's Angola State Prison. In the months before Sonnier's death, the Roman Catholic nun came to know a man who was as terrified as he had once been terrifying. She also came to know the families of the victims and the men whose job it was to execute—men who often harbored doubts about the rightness of what they were doing.

Out of that dreadful intimacy comes a profoundly moving spiritual journey through our system of capital punishment. Here Sister Helen confronts both the plight of the condemned and the rage of the bereaved, the fears of a society shattered by violence and the Christian imperative of love. On its original publication in 1993, DEAD MAN WALKING emerged as an unprecedented look at the human consequences of the death penalty.

Helen Prejean, C. S. J., is a writer, lecturer, and community organizer and the author of THE DEATH OF INNOCENTS: An Eyewitness Account of Wrongful Executions. She has lectured extensively on the subject of capital punishment, and has appeared on 60 Minutes, NBC's Today Show, NPR's Weekend Edition and Fresh Air, PBS's Frontline, and more. She is the recipient of honorary degrees from colleges and universities across the United States. A native Baton Rouge, Sister Prejean lives in New Orleans, LA.

Catherine Anyango Grünewald is a Swedish/Kenyan artist. She taught at the Royal College of Art in London for ten years, and is now a senior lecturer at Konstfack University in Stockholm. Her Graphic novel adaption of Joseph Conrad's HEAR OF DARKNESS, won the Observer's Graphic Novel of the Month and translated into seven languages. She lives and works in Sweden.

RIKERS: An Oral History

by Graham Rayman and Reuven Blau

A shocking, groundbreaking oral history of Rikers Island; a brutal portrait of violence, despair, and injustice told by the detainees and officers whose lives have been forever altered.

Prize-winning journalists Graham Rayman and Reuven Blau have spent years interviewing every kind of person whom Rikers has touched, from inmates and guards to judges and mayors, with stories spanning from the 1970s to the present day. The stories that emerge paint a brutal portrait of violence, despair, profound injustice, resilience and hope in one of the biggest institutions of America's justice system, and is a resounding lesson about the human consequences of the prison industrial complex.

Graham Rayman has been a journalist since 1993, where he has covered law enforcement and criminal justice issues for New York Newsday, Newsday, the Village Voice and the New York Daily News. He is the author of THE NYPD TAPES (St. Martin's, 2013).

Reuven Blau has been a journalist for eighteen years, starting his career at the family-owned Chief-Leader covering the correction unions and the city's civil service system. He also worked as an investigative reporter for the New York Post and the New York Daily News for close to a decade, where he covered developments at Rikers closely.

THE COLOR OF EVERYTHING

by Cory Richards

Adventurer and National Geographic photographer Cory Richards's THE COLOR OF EVERYTHING is a moving story about a life spent in pursuit of the world's highest peaks and most far-flung places, including surviving an avalanche in the Himalaya and summiting Mount Everest without oxygen, set against the reality of a lifelong struggle with bipolar disorder and childhood trauma, until the remarkable moment of clarity when he realized he no longer had to risk his life in order to save it. Included are stunning photos from throughout his career.

Cory Richards is an internationally renowned photographer, filmmaker/director, and writer. He is well-known for his work for National Geographic Magazine, exploring the most remote corners of the globe from Antarctica to the Russian Arctic. As a professional climber, his early career was defined by high-risk expeditions and leaned on his unique skillset to capture stories that were largely out of reach to others.

A WALK THROUGH TIME #1

by Paul Salopek

The first of two books, A WALK THROUGH TIME #1 is the first installment in Paul Salopek's account of his epic journey—on foot—following the path of human migration. It covers the first part of his walk, beginning in the Great Rift Valley of Africa (where homo sapiens began), and continuing through central Asia and beyond. The second book will be part two of Salopek's journey. We also have another nonfiction work, tentatively titled THE MULE DIARIES, under contract to be published in summer 2025.

Nothing like this has ever been undertaken, and no writer is better suited to tackle this unique odyssey.

Paul Salopek is the winner of not one, but two Pulitzer Prizes (awarded in 1998 and 2001). He was born in California and raised in Mexico. As a foreign correspondent, he has worked in Africa, the Middle East, Central Asia and Latin America. His stories have appeared in the Chicago Tribune, National Geographic, The Atlantic, Foreign Policy, The American Scholar, Conservation magazine, the Best American Travel Writing series, and many other publications. His work has won most of the national journalism awards in the United States; in addition to two Pulitzer Prizes he has been the recipient of: the George Polk Award; the National Press Club Award; the Overseas Press Club Award; the Daniel Pearl Award for Courage in Journalism; the Lovejoy Award for protecting press freedoms; a Princeton Ferris-McGraw Fellowship; a Niemen Fellowship at Harvard and many other honors. National Geographic will also be supporting this project.

THE JANUARY 6 REPORT: The Findings of The Select Committee to Investigate the January 6th Attack on the United States Capitol
by The January 6th Select Committee; Foreword by Adam Schiff

On January 6, 2021, the United States came perilously close to losing its democracy. A mob instigated by the president of the United States violently attacked the Capitol Building in Washington, D.C., seeking to disrupt the certification of the electors in the presidential election and prevent the peaceful transfer of power for the first time in American history. The attack was the culmination of a plot organized and driven by a defeated president, attempting to remain in power through a complex web of deceit, intimidation, and violence.

This is the official report of the investigation into the attack – perhaps the most vital congressional investigation in American history – with exhibits, witness testimony, and an exclusive foreword written by Congressman Adam Schiff—who offers critical insights into this harrowing chapter in American history. Adam Schiff, Chairman of the House Select Committee on Intelligence, led the first impeachment of President Donald Trump and is author of the #1 New York Times bestseller MIDNIGHT IN WASHINGTON: How We Almost Lost Our Democracy and Still Could.

Adam Schiff is an eleventh-term Member of Congress from Burbank, California. In his role as Chairman of the House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, Schiff led the first impeachment of Donald J. Trump. Before he served in Congress, he worked as an Assistant U.S. Attorney in Los Angeles and as a California State Senator.

GLOW IN THE F*CKING DARK: Simple Practices to Heal Your Soul, from Someone Who Learned the Hard Way

by Tara Schuster

Learn how to light up your soul so you can radiate strength, certainty, and joy no matter how dark the world seems to be—from the author of the runaway hit, *BUY YOURSELF THE F*CKING LILIES*.

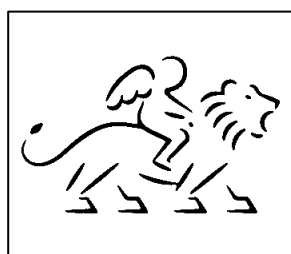

For the past decade, Tara Schuster has worked like hell to heal the emotional wounds inflicted during her neglected "mess-wreck disaster" of a childhood. She brought radical self-care, healing rituals, and self-love into her life, and most days, she is a happy, stable adult. She even wrote a book about it!

But then she lost her job, the one on which she had staked her entire adult identity. Cue an out-of-body-panic-doom-spiral. Isolated at home during a global pandemic, she experienced loneliness and a lack of purpose like she had never known. Her deepest traumas came to the surface. After a particularly dangerous dissociative episode while speeding down the highway, she realized that, for the first time in her life, she needed to slow down and pull over. She had fixed her life, but now, she wanted to heal herself. She needed to examine her core wounds, and get right with her soul, to find true, lasting strength, to be able to shine and thrive even in the darkest circumstances.

This book is a guide to healing your past, getting off your "good enough" plateau, developing habits that will give you true resilience, and creating the life that you actually want. It's for people who are ready to heal their innermost wounds, discover their purpose, and sit in the driver's seat of their experience. It's for anyone who is tired, hurting, and feeling like their shine is gone. It's for people who are ready to glow in the f*cking dark.

UP HOME: One Girl's Journey

by Ruth J. Simmons

The inspiring, indelible memoir of the daughter of sharecroppers from East Texas, whose love of reading would lead her to break every barrier in the academic world, including becoming the first African American president of an Ivy League university.

Ruth Simmons has led an extraordinary life. Born in 1945, she grew up in the small town of Grapeland, Texas, the twelfth child of sharecroppers. Her first home had no water or electricity, and some of her earliest memories are of picking cotton. Yet despite this—in fact, because of it—Ruth would go on to become one of America's preeminent educators, breaking down numerous barriers along the way.

In UP HOME, Ruth takes us back to Grapeland and the family and community that had little in economic terms, but endless supplies of joy and love, and shows how the specifics of time and place shape whom we become in unexpected ways. It is the uplifting story of a girl and young woman whose intellect, grace, and curiosity would open doors long closed to Black women in America.

Ruth J. Simmons is the president of Prairie View A&M University, Texas's oldest HBCU, as well as the former president of Brown University and Smith College and former provost of Princeton. She earned her bachelor's degree from Dillard University and her master's and doctorate from Harvard.

GEORGE VI AND QUEEN ELIZABETH: The Marriage that Saved the Monarchy

by Sally Bedell Smith

A revelatory account of the love story and strong marriage of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, and how they and their children, Elizabeth and Margaret, were tested in the crucible of World War II—by the bestselling author of ELIZABETH THE QUEEN and PRINCE CHARLES.

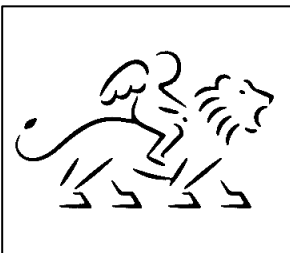

When the Duke of Windsor abdicated the throne in 1936, his shy, uncertain, unprepared younger brother became King. Sally Bedell Smith was granted special access by Queen Elizabeth II to the letters and diaries of George VI and Elizabeth to the story of how their love, devotion, and strong marriage led George VI to overcome insecurities and difficulty speaking to become an exceptional leader. His wife Elizabeth, a pretty, confident, and outgoing woman, who later became known as “the Queen Mum,” simultaneously strengthened and advised her temperamental husband, while raising the future Queen Elizabeth II and Princess Margaret. Sally Bedell Smith explores how this loving and devoted marriage helped the king and queen meet the challenges of leading the country through war, London during the blitz, their relationship with Winston Churchill, their visit with Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt in Washington and Hyde Park, and more.

This deeply researched and revealing book draws on the letters and diaries of the royal couple to put on the page their voices, their feelings and observations, even as it shows how a loving royal marriage enabled George VI and Elizabeth to meet together the existential challenges of war, to lead the nation, and to solidify the British people's faith in the monarchy.

Sally Bedell Smith is the author of the bestselling biographies of William S. Paley, Pamela Harriman, Diana, Princess of Wales, John and Jacqueline Kennedy, Bill and Hillary Clinton, Queen Elizabeth II, and most recently in 2017, Prince Charles. A contributing editor at Vanity Fair since 1996, she previously worked at Time and The New York Times, where she was a cultural news reporter.

SUCH A PRETTY FACE: Good Lessons from Bad Moments in an Unconventional Body
by Carla Sosenko

Former editor-in-chief of Time Out New York, Carla Sosenko's SUCH A PRETTY FACE: *Good Lessons from Bad Moments in an Unconventional Body, a vulnerable, candid, hilarious and heartbreaking memoir about living with cosmetic anomalies and health complications as a result of being born with the congenital vascular disorder, Klippel-Trenaunay Syndrome. Universally prescriptive, with uproarious humor, this is a book for anyone who has ever felt like an outsider; it's about all of the ways we hide, hoping to pass, but in the end, it's about what's on the other side of hiding, and ultimately, it is a rallying cry for the many people who need—and demand—more visibility and recognition.

Carla Sosenko is a writer and editor living in Brooklyn, N.Y. Her work has appeared in publications and on sites including Harper's Bazaar, Cosmopolitan, Entertainment Weekly, Time Out New York, Refinery29, Jezebel, Marie Claire, xojane, Self, The Hairpin and more. She received her MFA in creative writing from Emerson College, and her BA in English and BS in Journalism from Boston University.

ROAD TO SURRENDER: Three Men and the Countdown to the End of World War II
by Evan Thomas

A riveting, immersive account of the agonizing decision to use nuclear weapons against Japan—a crucial turning point in World War II and geopolitical history—told with you-are-there immediacy by the New York Times bestselling author of IKE'S BLUFF and SEA OF THUNDER.

This suspenseful account of the days leading up to America's decision in August 1945 to drop the atomic bomb, and the decision of Japan to surrender, is told through the stories of three men. They are Henry Stimson, the American Secretary of War, who had overall responsibility for decisions about the atom bomb; Gen. Carl "Tooe" Spaatz, head of strategic bombing in the Pacific, who was in charge of the planes that dropped the bombs; and Japanese Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo, who was the only one in Emperor Hirohito's Court and Supreme War Council who believed even before the bombs were dropped that Japan should surrender. To bring these critical events to vivid life, bestselling author Evan Thomas draws on Togo's diaries as well as special access to Spaatz's diaries and letters. In ROAD TO SURRENDER, an immersive, surprising, and moving account, Thomas lays out the behind-the-scenes thoughts, feelings, motivations, and decision-making of three people who changed history.

Thomas's next book, SEVEN DAYS IN DECEMBER, is currently scheduled for October 2026 and will cover a pivotal week during World War II, where President Roosevelt, Winston Churchill, and Adolf Hitler changed the course of history with their actions.

Evan Thomas is the author of ten books, including the New York Times bestsellers JOHN PAUL JONES, SEA OF THUNDER, and FIRST: SANDRA DAY O'CONNOR. Thomas was a writer, correspondent, and editor for thirty-three years at Time and Newsweek, including ten years as Newsweek's Washington bureau chief. He appears on many TV and radio talk shows. Thomas has taught at Harvard and Princeton.

UNTITLED MEMOIRby Darren Walker

An urgent and inspiring American story, about social progress and its enemies, from the President of the Ford Foundation. Before Walker came to lead one of the most important philanthropies in the world, he was a poor African-American kid in southeast Texas, raised by a single mother. "In a shack," as he says. Equal parts will and educational opportunities got him to law school at the University of Texas, and from there into banking - UBS, Credit Suisse. And then he did something that no one does. Once he made enough money to buy his mother a house and make himself comfortable, he said, Okay, that's enough, and decided to give away money and fight for social change - to preserve the path for others that he himself had forged.

This is part memoir of an extraordinary American life, part urgent manifesto at a perilous moment, just as social progress in America is under threat on all fronts, and the opportunities and social investments that transformed Darren Walker's life are under attack and in retreat. His story is a cautionary tale of what is at risk if we abandon social progress, as Washington is presently doing, in deference to a politics of retrenchment, nativism, and hostility. With power and purpose, Walker offers up his own story as a demonstration effect for what the Civil Rights movement and progressive twentieth century has been able to achieve, and what we can gain by fighting for change.

Darren Walker is president of the Ford Foundation, an international social justice philanthropy with a $14 billion endowment and $600 million in annual grant making. Before joining Ford, Walker was vice president at the Rockefeller Foundation. Walker co-chairs New York City's Commission on City Art, Monuments, and Markers and serves on the Commission on the Future of Rikers Island Correctional Institution and the UN International Labor Organization Commission on the Future of Work. He also serves on the boards of Carnegie Hall, the High Line, and the Committee to Protect Journalists. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the recipient of thirteen honorary degrees and university awards, including the W.E.B. Du Bois Medal from Harvard University.

THE GIRL WHO BAPTIZED HERSELF

by Meggan Watterson

From Meggan Watterson, Harvard-trained feminist theologian and bestselling author of MARY MAGDALENE REVEALED, comes THE GIRL WHO BAPTIZED HERSELF, an exploration of a paradigm-shifting and nearly erased 1st century scripture about a teenager, Thecla, who both defies the systems of power within the Roman Empire and reveals that the foundation of Christianity was far more radical and embracing of personal and collective change than the version of Christianity that formed under Constantine centuries later.

Meggan Watterson is a feminist theologian with a Master of Divinity from Union Theological Seminary and a Master of Theological Studies from Harvard Divinity School. She is the author of The Wall Street Journal bestselling book, MARY MAGDALENE REVEALED: THE FIRST APOSTLE, HER FEMINIST GOSPEL, and THE CHRISTIANITY WE HAVEN'T TRIED YET. As a scholar, she studied and has studied the voice of the divine feminine throughout the history of world religions. She also created THE DIVINE FEMININE ORACLE to gather together many of the female saints, gurus, poets, and mystics that are too often forgotten or have not been fully seen and recognized for the wisdom they shared with humanity. She is an immensely proud mom of an old soul named Shai, which means "gift" in Aramaic.

THE SECRET GATE: A True Story of Courage and Sacrifice During the Collapse of Afghanistan
by Mitchell Zuckoff

A thrilling, harrowing story of how three ordinary yet remarkable people—a feminist Afghan writer who gained celebrity by winning custody of her young son, now marked for death by the Taliban; an unusual young American diplomat raised on tales of Holocaust heroism, and a New York literary agent with an ambassador ex-boyfriend and surprising contacts on the streets of Kabul—engineered a breathtaking rescue plan in the frenzied final hours of the US evacuation of Afghanistan, culminating in a dash for freedom amid gunfire at a secret CIA entrance to the Kabul airport.

Mitchell Zuckoff is the author of seven previous works of nonfiction, including the #1 New York Times bestseller 13 HOURS (Twelve), as well as FROZEN IN TIME (Harper) and LOST IN SHANGRI-LA (Harper). As a member of the Boston Globe Spotlight Team, he was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in investigative reporting. Zuckoff's honors include the Livingston Award for International Reporting, the Winship/PEN New England Award for Nonfiction, and the Heywood Broun Memorial Award. His work has appeared in The New Yorker, The New York Times, and numerous other publications.
